Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and it s double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt

Extractive Industries and Changing State Dynamics in Africa Jon Schubert, Ulf Engel, Elísio Macamo, 2018-07-04 This book uses extractive industry projects in Africa to explore how political authority and the nation state are reconfigured at the intersection of national political contestations and global transnational capital Instead of focusing on technological zones and the new social assemblages at the actual sites of construction or mineral extraction the authors use extractive industry projects as a topical lens to investigate contemporary processes of state making at the state corporation nexus Throughout the book the authors seek to understand how public political actors and private actors of liberal capitalism negotiate and redefine notions and practices of sovereignty by setting legal regulatory and fiscal standards Rather than looking at resource governance from a normative perspective the authors look at how these negotiations are shaped by and reshape the self conception of various national and transnational actors and how these jointly redefine the role of the state in managing these processes for the greater good Extractive Industries and Changing State Dynamics in Africa will be useful for researchers upper level students and policy makers who are interested in new articulations of state making and politics in Africa Transforming Universities in South Africa ,2020-08-31 The idea of transformation in higher education underpins all policy documents academic literature and on going debates in South Africa Transforming Universities in South Africa Pathways to Higher Education Reform responds to the pressing need to comprehensively review the post apartheid experience and assess where South Africa s higher education stands across the continent and globally particularly within the country s efforts to overcome decades of socio economic imbalances It addresses the question of whether South Africa s transformation strategy from apartheid to democracy was simply a symbolic new flag raising and new anthem singing exercise reflecting a transition akin to those limited decolonization projects elsewhere in the world or whether something more fundamental was possible and was achieved with political and policy implications for other countries in Africa and globally This volume s ultimate purpose is to provide a basis for imagining new futures in which South Africa higher education in the context of Africa and the global world takes centre stage

Information Technology in Environmental Engineering Jorge Marx Gómez,Brenda Scholtz,2016-02-04 This book presents new concepts as well as practical applications and experiences in the field of information technology for environmental engineering The book has three main focus areas firstly it shows how information technologies can be employed to support natural resource management and conservation environmental engineering scientific simulation and integrated assessment studies Secondly it demonstrates the application of computing in the everyday practices of environmental engineers natural scientists economists and social scientists And thirdly it demonstrates how the complexity of natural phenomena can be approached using interdisciplinary methods where computer science offers the infrastructure needed for environmental data collection and management scientific simulations decision support documentation and reporting The book collects selected papers presented at the 7th International Symposium on Environmental Engineering held in Port Elizabeth South Africa in July 2015 It discusses recent success stories in eco informatics promising ideas and new challenges from the interdisciplinary viewpoints of computer scientists environmental engineers economists and social scientists demonstrating new paradigms for problem solving and decision making Annual Report National Research Foundation (South Africa),2016

Non-Racialism in South Africa Allan Zinn,2016-08-14 At the time of his death in August 2012 Neville Alexander was undoubtedly one of South Africa s foremost proponents of the philosophy of non racialism He had devoted his life to fighting against the evils of racism sexism and economic injustice He understood how these social realities not only divided but also ranked human beings in terms of human worth and value He saw how these realities diminished the whole society both the perpetrators and victims And so he gave over his life as a scholar and a political activist to challenging these realities This volume brings together the reflections of a group of activists and scholars on the significance of Neville Alexander to the cause of freedom and justice in South Africa The reflections are essentially the keynote speeches and the responses to them that were made at a conference in Alexander s honour held at the Centre for Non Racialism and Democracy at the Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University in July 2013
