Congress,1962 Whitehall and the Jews, 1933-1948 Louise London,2003-02-27 Whitehall and the Jews is the most comprehensive study to date of the British response to the plight of European Jewry under Nazism It contains the definitive account of immigration controls on the admission of refugee Jews and reveals the doubts and dissent that lay behind British policy British self interest consistently limited humanitarian aid to Jews Refuge was severely restricted during the Holocaust and little attempt made to save lives although individual intervention did prompt some admissions on a purely humanitarian basis After the war the British government delayed announcing whether refugees would obtain permanent residence reflecting the government's aim of avoiding long term responsibility for large numbers of homeless Jews The balance of state self interest against humanitarian concern in refugee policy is an abiding theme of Whitehall and the Jews one of the most important contributions to the understanding of the Holocaust and Britain yet published

Informal Public Transport in Practice Meleckidzedek Khayesi, Fredrick Muyia Nafukho, 2016-03-03

Transport discourse often concentrates on what is missing from transport policy and practice in developing countries vis vis high income countries rather than articulating local creativity in responding to transport needs as revealed in informal public transport modes such as matatu motorcycle bicycle and animal transport This book helps to correct some of the tendency of inadequate contextualization of knowledge technology and practice learning and transfer from one setting to another in transport and other development programmes While countries such as Kenya have ambitions to develop their transport systems to fit into the globalized transport system they also need to plan transport for ordinary life in both urban and rural areas The matatu service provided by privately owned transport carriers can be seen as a mirror of the life of Kenya revealing how indigenous African entrepreneurship and capitalism straddles various economic political and social systems This book offers a phenomenological and situated analysis of the matatu entrepreneurship in the political economy of Kenya and its embeddedness in society By adopting a social science approach this book highlights a number of political social and practical issues to demonstrate the matatu is not a decontextualized disembodied and lifeless piece of moving metal carrying people and goods but rather part of a self organizing industry with its own logic of practice This book is dedicated to Ajanga Khayesi
