Department of Defence, 2016 Geosynthetics for Development of Transportation Infrastructures Sujit Kumar Dash, Castorina Silva Vieira, 2021-05-05 Replicating & Reproducing Policing Research Khadija Monk, Jacek Koziarski, 2024-04-30 This book addresses the need for policing scholarship to strengthen its empirical cumulative knowledge base by replicating and reproducing earlier studies The chapters in this volume advance policing research by replicating and reproducing earlier studies investigating the generalizability of research findings and making data and research methods available to other researchers to encourage scientific exploration of previous research findings Each chapter addresses important scientific goals of validity reliability and generalizability which build our cumulative knowledge of what is known in policing research ultimately informing policymaking The book offers insights into why replicating and reproducing policing scholarship is critical from emphasizing the importance of making data and study material publicly available to facilitate replications and reproductions to reproducing studies in new contexts and cautioning against making policy making decisions based on studies that have not been replicated This volume highlights the immense value in shifting researchers priorities even slightly to focus less so on originality and innovation to make room for replications and reproductions thereby shedding light on how true empirical knowledge on policing and police practice is dependent on it This book was originally published as a special issue of Police Practice and Research

The Changing Face of Land and Conservation in Post-colonial Africa George Barrett, Shirley Brooks, Jenny Josefsson, Nqobile Zulu, 2016-03-22 The year 2013 marked the 100th anniversary of the 1913 Land Act in South Africa which legalised the violent dispossession and alienation of the African majority from the land It is common cause that the alienation of land for conservation purposes introduced to Africa under colonial rule has continued more or less uninterrupted until today However while nature conservation practices inevitably raise challenging questions relating to land and land use there has thus far been little concentrated effort to bring together scholars working on the land question particularly around issues of land tenure with those whose work focuses on questions of nature construction and the social impacts of conservation in an African context Compiled from research presented at a ground breaking interdisciplinary conference held at Rhodes University in Grahamstown South Africa in 2012 the chapters in this book made their first appearance in a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary African Studies JCAS in July 2013 The book brings critical interdisciplinary analyses of the complex interrelations between contemporary neoliberal conservation practices in post colonial Africa into conversation with the well trodden territory of land use and contested land issues on the continent Anchored by an intellectual curiosity about the extent to which past practices continue into the present and with what consequences the book provides fresh insights into the complex relationship between land and conservation in contemporary Africa

Flow and Transformations in Porous Media Renaud Toussaint, Bjørnar Sandnes, Daniel Koehn, Piotr Szymczak, Einat Aharonov, 2017-02-07 Fluid flow in transforming porous rocks fracture networks and granular media is a very active interdisciplinary research subject in Physics Earth Sciences and Engineering Examples of natural and engineered processes include hydrocarbon recovery carbon dioxide geo sequestration soil drying and wetting pollution remediation soil liquefaction landslides dynamics of wet or dry granular media dynamics of faulting or friction volcanic eruptions gas venting in sediments karst development and speleogenesis ore deposit development and radioactive waste disposal Hydrodynamic flow instabilities and pore scale disorder typically result in complex flow patterning In transforming media additional mechanisms come into play compaction de compaction erosion segregation and fracturing lead to changes in permeability over time Dissolution precipitation and chemical reactions between solutes and solids may gradually alter the composition and structure of the solid matrix either creating or destroying permeable paths for fluid flow A complex dynamic feedback thus arises where on the one hand the fluid flow affects the characteristics of the porous medium and on the other hand the changing medium influences the fluid flow This Research Topic Ebook presents current research illustrating the depth and breadth of ongoing work in the field of flow and transformation in porous media through 15 papers by 72 authors from around the world The body of work highlights the challenges posed by the vast range of length and time scales over which subsurface flow processes occur Importantly phenomena from each scale contribute to the larger scale behavior The flow of oil and gas in reservoirs and the flow of groundwater on catchment scale is sensitively linked to pore scale processes and material heterogeneity down to the micrometer scale The geological features of the same reservoirs and catchments evolved over millions of years sometimes as a consequence of cracking and fracture growth occurring on the time scale of microseconds The research presented by the authors of this Research Topic represents a step toward bridging the separation of scales as well as the separation of scientific disciplines so that a more unified picture of flow and transformation in porous media can start to emerge
