Apprenticeship Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: Select Committee on Economic Affairs,2007-07-20
Apprenticeship A key route to skill 5th report of session 2006 07 Vol 2 Evidence Adult apprenticeships Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts,2012-05-17 The Department for Business Innovation and Skills works with the Skills Funding Agency the Agency and the National Apprenticeship Service the Service to deliver the Apprenticeship Programme Adult apprentices represented 325 500 or 71% of the 457 200 apprentices who started their apprenticeship in the 2010 11 academic year During the 2010 11 financial year the Department spent 451 million on adult apprenticeships The Programme has been a success more than quadrupling the number of adult apprenticeships in the four years to 2010 11 and the proportion of adult apprentices successfully completing their apprenticeship has also risen from around a third in 2004 05 to over three quarters in 2010 11 Further work however needs to be done to maximise its impacts The Department should improve its understanding of which apprenticeships offer the biggest returns The Service should give both employers and individuals better information about the benefits arising from different types of apprenticeship as well as about the quality of the many training providers The Service should do more to increase the number of employers offering apprenticeships and to increase the proportion of advanced skill level apprenticeships achieved moving England closer to the levels delivered in other European countries Importantly around one in five apprenticeships lasted for six months or less The Service accepts concern that apprenticeships lasting for such a short period are of no proper benefit to either individuals or employers The Service says it is tackling the problem but it needs to do more to guarantee the length and quality of training especially the off the job training apprentices receive Collective Skill Formation in the Knowledge Economy Giuliano Bonoli,Patrick Emmenegger,2022-09-22 Interest in collective skill formation systems has been high for a long time but recent structural economic and societal developments have led commentators to question their viability In particular the shift towards a knowledge economy creates a number of challenges for these highly praised systems of vocational training These challenges relate to the growing importance of knowledge intensive production in advanced economies and with the accelerated pace of change due to innovation and globalization What is more these issues are compounded by coinciding developments in growing inequality and the emergence of multicultural societies Can collective skill formation systems adapt fast enough to the needs of the knowledge economy Can they continue to be as successful as they have been in the past in integrating youth in the labour market Will employers be willing to participate in the delivery of vocational training in this new context In this book a world class team of leading experts on collective skill formation systems provide a thorough discussion of these and other questions raised by the shift to a knowledge economy The book argues that collective skill formation systems remain attractive for firms and governments However continuous and profound adjustments will be needed if they are to fulfil their objectives in terms of equity and efficiency Participation by 16-19 year olds in education and training Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee,2011-07-19 The Education Committee accepts that changes to student support needed to be made but says that the delay in deciding on allocations and the guiding principles for distribution should not have been allowed to happen The report states that the Government should have done more to acknowledge the Educational Maintenance Allowance s EMA combined impact on participation attainment and retention before it decided how to restructure financial support The bursary scheme which is to replace the EMA will inevitably lead to inconsistencies which could distort young people s choices of where to study It is not persuaded that bursaries administered by schools and colleges will necessarily be fairer or more discriminating than a slimmed down more targeted entitlement such as the EMA The report also highlights the difficulty of transferring data between schools and colleges and encourages the Department for Education to do more to ensure that information about pupils needs can move easily between educational institutions The Committee supports the Government s focus on Apprenticeships but urges it to protect quality at the same time as increasing numbers participating It also urges the Department for Education to fund the National Careers Service to provide face to face careers advice for young people
