

Better preserve neural activity for weeks following surgery

Actuated Medical, Inc. designed SonoShield Defender as a preclinical system to improve implanted electrode longevity for chronic use by delivering a focused acoustic field that produces a neuro-protective environment around implanted electrodes. The acoustic SonoShield Defender treatment improves electrode performance (signal-to-noise, single-unit detection) and impacts microglia motility in the days following electrode implantation.

C) Benchtop testing of acoustic field intensity demonstrates a ~2 mm homogeneous field of acoustic energy capable of targeting cortically implanted electrode shanks. D) Testing of SonoShield Defender on tissue phantoms demonstrates no increase in tissue temperature in stimulation region.

Key Advantages

- > Non-invasive acoustic technology promotes neuron survival near electrodes
- > Single ultrasound source located over electrode
- > Desktop-sized electronics system
