A Conceptual Framework for SMART Applications in Higher Education: Emerging Research and Opportunities Connelly, James Orion, Miller, Paula, 2019-11-01 With the rapid availability of information it becomes essential to keep pace with this availability as well as process the information into knowledge that has real world applications Neuroscientific methods allow an approach to this problem based on the way that the human brain already operates Over the centuries and through observation and trial and error we already know a great deal about how we can teach and learn but now we can verify this with scientific fact and discover previously unknown aspects of brain physiology These observations of brain functioning have produced many learning theories all of which have varying degrees of validity These theories in turn give birth to theories and models of instructional design which also have varying degrees of validity A Conceptual Framework for SMART Applications in Higher Education Emerging Research and Opportunities is a critical scholarly publication that explores how the brain acquires and processes information to turn information into knowledge and the role of SMART technology and how it combines and integrates visual and aural data to facilitate learning The book also discusses ways to apply what is known about teaching to how the brain operates and how to incorporate instructional design models into the teaching and learning process Highlighting various topics such as neurogenesis smart technologies and behaviorism this book is essential for instructional designers online instruction managers teachers academicians administrators researchers knowledge managers and students

Optimization, Machine Learning, and Fuzzy Logic: Theory, Algorithms, and Applications Mzili, Toufik, Arya, Adarsh Kumar, Pamucar, Dragan, Shaheen, Momina, 2025-02-20 Optimization machine learning and fuzzy logic are fundamental in the field of computational intelligence each contributing to solving complex problems across various domains Optimization techniques focus on finding the best solutions to problems by improving efficiency and minimizing resources Machine learning enables systems to learn from data making predictions or decisions without being programmed Fuzzy logic deals with uncertainty and imprecision allowing for flexible decision making processes Together these theories algorithms and applications solve challenges in fields such as engineering finance and healthcare where traditional methods often fall short The continued application and exploration of these disciplines may unveil new possibilities for advanced problem solving and intelligent systems Optimization Machine Learning and Fuzzy Logic Theory Algorithms and Applications explores optimization techniques fuzzy logic and their integration with machine learning It covers fundamental concepts mathematical foundations algorithms and applications providing a holistic understanding of these domains This book covers topics such as disease detection deep learning and text analysis and is a useful resource for engineers data scientists medical professionals academicians and researchers The Higher Education Institutions Handbook ,2012 Kenya Gazette ,2012-03-02 The Kenya Gazette is an official publication of the government of the Republic of Kenya It contains notices of new legislation notices required to be published by law or policy as well as other announcements that are published for general public information It is published every week usually on Friday with occasional releases of special or supplementary editions within the week Health in Diversity - Diversity in Health Katharina Crepaz,Ulrich Becker,Elisabeth Wacker,2020-02-03 European public discourse often frames forced migration solely as a security issue and ignores the implications of societal diversity for health quality of life and well being in both Africa and Europe The present volume offers an interdisciplinary and international look at the relationship between refugees diversity and health including health care policies socio political framework conditions environmental factors the situation in refugee camps quality of life approaches and economical perspectives Basic Sciences for Sustainable Development Ponnadurai Ramasami,2023-03-20 The year 2022 has been declared by the United Nations as the International Year of Basic Sciences for Sustainable Development Sustainable development is focused on the UN s 17 Sustainable Development Goals These require the use of basic sciences This edited book of proceedings volume 2 is a collection of ten invited and peerreviewed contributions from environmental protection and water remediation Citizen Participation in Decision Making Njogu, Kimani,2014-01-16 This book is a result of public dialogue forums in pursuit of accountable and transparent governance in Kenya organized by Twaweza Communications with the support of Ford Foundation From the convenings it was evident that the stability of Kenya will be driven by the extent to which citizens feel fully included in the development agenda Quite often political leaders view the role of citizens in governance as restricted primarily to their participation in the electoral process This narrow view has led to arrogance and total disregard of citizens after poll results are announced Under the new political dispensation heralded by the promulgation of the Constitution of Kenya on August 27 2010 this trend must change and the sovereignty of the people in theory and practice must be reinscribed The publication raises important issues worth serious reflection It also suggests ways in which citizens can better participate in their own transformation Case studies highlighted in the book exemplify the importance building the Kenyan nation by addressing patterns of exclusion and glaring inequalities The topics covered include multipartism natural resource governance gender politics of identity marginalization of Coastal Kenya youth empowerment and investing in knowledge economy among others The book is a valuable addition to our understanding of the root political and social anxieties in Kenya and how these could be ameliorated Multicampus University Systems Ishmael I.

Munene, 2014-08-27 In the face of increasing social demand and cutbacks in state budgetary support universities in African countries are now turning towards a multicampus system strategy As African governments have adopted neoliberal education policies that place premium on entrepreneurialism profit making privatization and markets as drivers of university development a reshaping of the academic work and organizational framework have taken place However little is known about the impact of this paradigm shift on access quality and governance in higher education This book fills the void in research and academic knowledge about the impact of the emerging university configurations in Africa It analyzes the paradox surrounding the performance of multicampus university systems as avenues of broadening university access but whose structural success may be qualitatively contested This book offers a refreshing examination of the African multicampus university system from both an African and global perspective It makes use of empirical data from Kenya collected during extensive fieldwork along with substantive library and documentary resources on the rest of the continents to fortify arguments and demonstrate important conclusions This allows for a comparative analysis of policies and strategies used in the establishment of campuses both within and beyond national boundaries in the continent and will be a welcome contribution to the existing repertoire on African universities The Status of Student Involvement in University

Governance in Kenya Mulinge, Munyae M., Arasa, Josephine N., 2017-05-05 This book examines the concept of the democratization of governance in universities in Kenya with particular emphasis on students involvement in governance processes and decision making Data were collected from members of the student community utilizing a structured self administered questionnaire and from purposively selected key informants and focus group discussants drawn from Kenyatta University representing the public sector and the United States International University representing the private sector The guiding argument for the study was that shared governance one of the principles of good governance is critical in enabling the universities to deliver their visions and the missions effectively The results revealed that while in principle Kenyan universities have embraced democratic governance in which all stakeholders including students have a role to play in practice they continue to violate the core principles of good governance particularly shared governance Specifically students who are major stakeholders in university education are largely excluded from significant structures of governance thereby limiting their influence and participation Although their representation is mainly provided via student self governance organs unions associations and or councils their effectiveness is undermined considerably by the lack of trust and confidence of the student body and the unending manipulation by top university administrators and external political actors Student active involvement in decision making is mainly confined to lower levels such as the school faculty and departmental programme. The authors call for a paradigm shift in the involvement of students in the governance of universities in ways that discourage the current culture of tokenism and political correctness that characterizes public and private universities in Kenya.
