

Applications of Area, Length and Distance

1. A sector of a circle is a region of the circle bounded by a central angle and the corresponding arc.

As proportional relationships exist between the central angle bounding the sector and the complete circle, these have previously determined relationships that could be used to predict that arc length of a circle is directly $\propto$ (proportional) central angle values or diameter of rotation. This function gives the constant for arc length of a circle of radius r in generalization.

$$\text{Arc Length} = \frac{\theta}{360} (\text{circumference of rotation})$$

Another way to find given length is to think about unit π , where circumference. As you collected that the given radius in this previous activity, you determined that arc length is directly $\propto$ product of that circle's circumference and radius has represented in terms of π . This relationship may be generalized proportionally as circle of any given radius, r , is defined.

$$\frac{\text{Arc Length}}{2\pi r} = \frac{\text{Degrees of Rotation}}{360}$$

Similarly, you determined a function that could be used to predict the arc length by a central angle in a circle of radius of diameter of radius r .

$$(\text{Arc Length for Length of Rotation}) = \frac{\theta}{360} (\text{circumference of rotation})$$

As you collected that for given radius in this previous activity, you determined that, the arc length, area of rotation for area swept is proportional to the circle's circumference may be represented in terms of π . This relationship is generalized proportionally for a circle of any given radius, r is defined.

$$\frac{\text{Arc Length}}{2\pi r} = \frac{\text{Degrees of Rotation}}{360}$$

Example: (Based on previous activity and necessary.)

1. If the radius of a circle is 10 units and the angle is 60 degrees, find the arc length and area of that sector.
