

Water Park Project Part I

TASK 1: Designing your Park

You have recently been hired to create a blueprint for a water park. Your boss, Catherine Harrington, is a very controlling person. She wants you to include specific attractions and necessities in your design. She proposed to answer her questions before you have had enough time to adequately explain what you are doing. First off, she wants it to be done on a large sheet of graph paper so that she can apply her mathematical knowledge to make the park the best it can be. She has issues and will yell at you if you do not do this properly. Before starting your blueprint, identify the center of your paper, and use a ruler to draw in the x and y axes. Then, you need to plot the approximate entrance points (where the line starts!) of each attraction on the graph paper and draw in the remaining part of the attraction around it in a creative fashion. Try to spread them out as much as possible. Use a pencil to draw the items and then go back and color them in with colored pencils.

Items to be included in the design are listed below:

- Life center
- Large whirlpool
- 3 different water slides (use your imagination)
- Toddler area
- Lazy river
- Concessions
- Gift shop
- Restrooms
- Security desk

Governance and sector outcomes Anna Wetterberg,Derick W. Brinkerhoff,2018-09-27 A critical issue in international development is how donor funded programs can support sustainable and long lasting changes in assisted countries Among the factors associated with sustainability is improved governance However many donor funded initiatives are focused on achieving results in specific sectors such as health education and agriculture How can how governance interventions contribute to achieving sector specific results This brief explores this question and discusses how international development practice has incorporated recognition of the links between governance and sector outcomes The brief develops a stylized continuum of how governance elements relate to sector interventions and contribute to expected outcomes We discuss factors that either impede or impel governance integration and close with some observations regarding prospects for integrated programming The audience for the brief is the international development policy and practitioner communities and secondarily academics with an interest in the topic Key take aways include 1 there is ample evidence of positive contributions from improved governance to sector specific outcomes but few guideposts exist for practical and effective governance integration 2 barriers to integration include urgent sector priorities that overshadow governance concerns requirements to demonstrate progress towards ambitious sector targets and complex choices related to measurement and 3 sustainability and self reliance are major drivers for integration and are facilitated by the flexibility and adaptation that governance integration enables
