The Handbook of Social Work and Social Development in Africa Mel Gray, 2016-10-26 All recent books on international social work mention Africa only briefly and few engage with the broader field of development studies This book focuses solely on the unique African context engaging with issues relating to social work and development more broadly thus enabling a deeper examination and more complex and nuanced picture to emerge Unlike most academic works this book highlights multiple practitioner voices with authors or co authors that have recently been or are currently practising social workers As an edited book it draws from both academic research as well as lived practice experience supported by strong theoretical positioning and guidance in introductory chapters drawing on African literature wherever possible Looking at case studies from Lesotho Botswana Kenya Zimbabwe Ethiopia Namibia Uganda Nigeria Kenya South Africa Rwanda Zambia and Tanzania and covering established areas of practice such as child protection working with older people working with people with disabilities mental health and mainstream services targeting women as well as emerging areas of developmental social work practice such as humanitarian assistance in post conflict situations work with immigrants and refugees and the training of community based workers this book takes a future oriented perspective that aims to move beyond well worn critiques to envision constructive and sustainable futures for social work and social development in Africa from a critical perspective African Studies in the Academy Mawere, Munyaradzi, Mubaya, Tapuwa R., 2017-08-09 For a long time African Studies as a discipline has been spearheaded by academics and institutions in the Global North This puts African Studies on the continent at a crossroads of making choices on whether such a discipline can be legitimately accepted as an epistemological discipline seeking objectivity and truth about Africa and the African peoples or a discipline meant to perpetuate the North's hegemonic socio-economic political and epistemic control over Africa The compound question that immediately arises is Who should produce what and which space should African Studies occupy in the academy both of the North and of the South Confronted by such a question one wonders whether the existence of African Studies Centres in the Global North academics open opportunities for critical thinking on Africa or it opens possibilities for the emergence of the same discipline in Africa as a fertile space for transdisciplinary debate While approaches critical for the development of African Studies are pervasive in African universities through fields such as cultural studies social anthropology history sociology indigenous knowledge studies and African philosophy the discipline of African Studies though critical to Africa is rarely practiced as such in the African academy and its future on the continent remains bleak African Studies in the Academy is a testimony that if honestly and objectively practiced the crossroads position of African Studies as a discipline makes it a fertile ground for generating and testing new approaches critical for researching and understanding Africa It also challenges Africa to seriously consider assuming its legitimate position to champion African Studies from within These issues are at the heart of the present volume Regional Integration, Human Rights and Democratic Participation in Africa Karin Deichmann, 2020 The protection of human rights and popular participation on the first sight seem to contradict the often existing image of the African continent However with the foundation of the African Union in 2000 both aspects gain greater importance on regional level Besides that many subregional courts within the sphere of sub-Saharan Africa partially started to develop human rights related jurisdiction In addition to that most regional economic communities nowadays provide for their own parliamentary structures The study aims to examine the several institutional structures and their competences on both regional and subregional level Besides that it provides for a profound analysis of the jurisdiction of the respective courts as well as the communications of the African Commission of Human and Peoples Rights Lastly the study focuses on the correlation between the extension of the institutions' competences and the political will of the involved governments Protecting the Individual from International Authority Monika Heupel, Michael Zürn, 2017-04-27 This book shows how international organizations have a greater capacity to violate human rights but also take on responsibility to avert such harm Yearbook International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea / Annuaire Tribunal international du droit de la mer, Volume 19 (2015) Intl. EU Sanctions Litigation Alexandre Sztulman, 2025-11-27 This book comprehensively examines the European Union EU judiciary s approach to international sanctions drawing on recent case law from the Court of Justice and the General Court It addresses the procedural framework governing judicial review alongside a substantive evaluation of restrictive measures in terms of their legality and conformity with fundamental rights and procedural guarantees As a cornerstone of the EU s Common Foreign and Security Policy CFSP restrictive measures particularly international sanctions serve as the Union s primary tool for addressing actions that conflict with its core values Today the EU stands as a leading global authority on sanctions both through implementing United Nations Security Council measures and through independently enacted autonomous sanctions These complex mechanisms blending preventive and punitive approaches impose financial freezes sector specific embargoes and various restrictions targeting governments legal entities and individuals outside the EU Providing a detailed analysis of how these measures intersect with repressive administrative and criminal law the book sheds light on the judicial balance between effective enforcement and the protection of fundamental rights Examining both technical legal issues and broader principles of justice and human rights the book includes recommendations for refining restrictive measures within the EU This book will be of interest to researchers in the fields of EU law international security and human rights offering a nuanced understanding of the judicial review processes that shape the EU s sanctioning powers

Africa's International Investment Law Regimes Won L. Kidane, 2023 Africa s International Investments Law Regimes examines the relationship between African states and the

International Centre for the Settlement of Investment Disputes ICSID through a qualitative review of ICSID cases from the 1970s to today In his examination Won L Kidane looks at how African states have both shaped the jurisprudence of the institution and debunked claims of systemic bias National tuberculosis prevalence surveys 2007-2016 ,2021-05-03

Between 2007 and the end of 2016 24 countries implemented a total of 25 national tuberculosis prevalence surveys using methods recommended by WHO The 25 surveys consisted of 13 in Asia and 12 in Africa Collectively survey findings have informed the policies plans and programmatic actions needed to address gaps in TB diagnosis and treatment and to reduce the burden of TB disease Finally the 24 countries have a robust baseline for assessing progress towards new global targets set in the UN Sustainable Development Goals 2016 2030 and WHO s End TB Strategy 2016 2035 The methods results successes achieved challenges faced and lessons learned from the 25 surveys were comprehensively documented in the book We viewed such a product as a global public good that should be available to all those with an interest in and commitment to using survey findings now and in the future e g academics donors public health officers and national TB programmes As with implementation of the 25 surveys themselves the book is the result of a major global regional and national collaborative and collective effort with more than 450 contributors from all around the world
