Fees Must Fall Susan Booyesen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and it's double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co-opted students into their ranks to create co-responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt Socio-ecological-economic reflections on the impacts of COVID-19 in Africa Willie Chinyamurindi, Philani Moyo, 2025-02-28 This scholarly book magnifies reflections from young scientists in South Africa and beyond around the COVID 19 pandemic With contributions by upcoming scientists this scholarly book provides a synopsis of socio ecological economic views on the impact of COVID 19 Through its chapters the book takes a multi disciplinary approach to reflecting on what it was like to be a scientist during the COVID 19 pandemic By doing so each chapter re imagines science from the viewpoint of its discipline offering insights from the perspective of young scientists that could benefit other scholars academics and policymakers Proceedings of the International Conference on Business and Management Dynamics 2016: Sustainable economies in the information economy Joy E. Akahome, Michael Twum-Darko, Cyril Ogbokor, Nyaniso Mfusi Zonke, T. Sethibe, R. Steyn, Esme Mohammed, Renier Steyn, L.B. Nguenang, Mamorena Lucia Matsoso, Henry N. Ozuru, Julius Akaba, Patient Rambe, Edem Korku Agbobli, Henri-Vincent Ndjave-Ndjoy, Regis Muchemwa, Andre de la Harpe, Konosoang Mpiti, Ayodeji Afolayan, 2016-12-31 Cape Town South Africa 7 Sept 2016 8 Sept 2016 Theme Sustainable economies in the information economy Purpose To share the quality academic papers presented at the International Conference on Business and Management Dynamics ICBMD held from 7 to 8 September 2016 at African Pride Crystal Hotel and Spa in Cape Town As grey literature the proceedings are the contributions made by researchers at the conference and are considered the written record of the work that was presented to fellow conference delegates

Methodology The methodology used varies from researcher to researcher but are suitable for the studies conducted Thus on the one hand studies that were subjective in nature used the interpretive paradigm where the qualitative approach adopted made use of the interview method to collect data On the other hand studies that were objectively inclined adopted the positivist philosophy and used survey questionnaires to collect data However there were some academic papers which used mixed methodology because of the nature of the study Whatever methodology used adhered to the ethos of the philosophies underpinning the methodology

Contribution made to scholarship The articles come from individual researchers and each article in the proceedings is unique Mostly there is no general argument leading from one contribution to the next However it is interesting to note that in the area of economic performance it was evident that real exchange rate and net foreign direct investment contribute more towards innovations in economic growth With regard to human capital development papers presented evidence that there exists a definite need to explore the phenomenon of personal branding as limited scientific academic research has been done within the field of personal branding or on elements of the topic Thus the outcome argues that personal branding has an influence on leadership style which in turn impacts on organisational performance and related hygiene factors Furthermore it was demonstrated that current methods or strategies for enforcing institutionalisation of knowledge sharing within an organisation have not been successful and as such new strategies are needed to reinforce efforts to nurture and invigorate the institutionalisation of knowledge sharing within an organisation With regard to technology and big data impact on organisational performance it was evident that system performance memory consumption and CPU utilisation can be used as criteria to compare and evaluate big data technologies to improve organisational performance Most of the articles contribution reemphasised technology education and training as a means of digitising business and improving effectiveness Target audience The target readership is academic researchers and business leaders who require access to the latest developments in the fields of economics information management business education development studies social sciences and technology It is also for policymakers and other stakeholders who need a better understanding of the impact of new developments on existing policies and regulations for their review or amendment

Proceedings of the International Conference Theory and Applications in the Knowledge Economy Eduardo Tomé, 2016-07-08 Foreword TAKE 2016 is a dream that came true In about six months a group of friends and colleagues put together in an upcoming and very dynamic university a conference with 9 streams 3 keynotes and 3 special sessions 60 papers presented 6 posters and around 80 participants from 20 countries This is awesome I would like to deeply thank Aveiro University the GOVCOPP research centre the conference committee the keynote speakers the special session convenors the stream leaders the reviewers the authors and the administrative people for all their work and support I want to have two special words one for Blazenka Knezevic without whom the website would not have been possible the other for Gaby Neumann for work in these Proceedings Scientifically TAKE seems to be as important and new and far reaching We don't have shortage of models regarding the knowledge economy but we decisively lack to explore the relation between theory and practice TAKE is a step in exploring that difference We know that Exact sciences find the best answers and social sciences give the best questions J C Spender and we also know that Knowledge Management is more preached by scholars than done by practitioners Aino Kianto We assume the first idea and try to overcome the second Hopefully TAKE 2016 will be a great success Thank you for everything
