plus the change at engine number 57617 when the split line between the main castings was moved to the center line of the cylinder. Many Triumph enthusiasts consider that the external distributor Tiger Cub models brought the true Triumph single cylinder line to a conclusion. This is further supported by the fact that the final workshop manual for the T15 T20 T20C T20S published under the Triumph name was the August 1964 manual No 8 part number 906 64 which only included the external distributor models. In addition, under BSA ownership, the Tiger Cub engine had previously been utilized as the basis for the 1959 BSA C15 and ultimately by the BSA Bantam Cub series from 1966 onwards. Unfortunately, Triumph motorcycle owners are subjected to considerable confusion surrounding the appropriate selection from the multitude of originals and reprints of the various manuals that have recently flooded the online marketplace. We encourage you to exercise caution when purchasing a manual for your motorcycle or automobile as many of the reprints found on internet websites are from bedroom sellers at enticingly low prices by individuals that really have no idea what they are selling. Many are nothing more than poor quality comb bound photocopies that are scanned and printed complete with greasy pages and thumbprints and as such are deceptively described as pre owned, used or even refurbished. In addition, they are often advertised for the incorrect series and/or model years.
