Sexual Orientation and Identity Matthew Andler, 2025-03-28 Sexual orientation and how we might understand it is a topic that arouses significant controversy Is sexual orientation a natural or social phenomenon Are categories such as queer and straight essential to the human condition or dependent on contingent cultural practices While such questions have been considered from the perspectives of sociology and gender studies they remain relatively underexplored from a philosophical standpoint In this book Matthew Andler breaks new ground examining the metaphysics of sexuality Distinguishing sexual orientation and sexual identity he asks why only certain aspects of sexuality count as sexual orientations arguing that sexual dispositions can only become sexual orientations in virtue of being related to heteropatriarchal kinship structures He then turns to sexual identity arguing that the categories queer and straight are grounded in the political function of sexuality cultures as resisting and/or entrenching heteropatriarchal kinship structures Additionally he critiques capitalist expropriations of queerness in pinkwashing He also argues that trans inclusive interpretations of sexuality categories serve everyone who seeks to build a life outside of the narrow provisions of heteropatriarchal kinship structures Sexual Orientation and Identity A Philosophical Analysis will be of interest to those studying the philosophy of gender social metaphysics and gender studies as well as for anyone interested in the conceptual issues underlying debates concerning gender and social justice

Restorative Justice Wanbli Wapháha Hokšíla, Nirson Medeiros da Silva Neto, João Salm, Josineide Gadelha Pamplona Medeiros, 2025-09-16 A restorative approach to environmental justice This little book discusses paths to address environmental conflicts based on a restorative justice perspective of imagining practicing and living justice It proposes an approach that understands the relationship between humankind and environment beyond the narrow conception of homo economicus considering the human beings in their social political economic historic spiritual cognitive emotional aesthetic and ecological dimensions as well as in their connection with nature and non human entities When applied to environmental problematics restorative justice needs to widen its perspective beyond an anthropocentric worldview transcending the interpretation that human beings are the exclusively subjects of dignity rights needs and speech capability It is necessary to dilate horizons towards non human entities and the natural spaces we inhabit and with whom we are deeply connected This dilation should stimulate justice experiences that integrate building peace sustainability and good living beyond ideas such as unlimited economic growth and even sustainable development To this end a restorative conception of justice implies an expanded understanding of justice that faces structural cultural institutional and historical violence as well as deals with intergenerational responsibility that integrate the present generations to those of the past in order to build the desired future for the generations to come
