sets you up for the story

to explain

When he was nearly thirteen, my brother Jem got his arm badly broken at the elbow. When it healed, and Jem's fears of never being able to play football were assuaged, he was seldom self-conscious about his injury. His left arm was somewhat shorter than his right; when he stood or walked, the back of his hand was at right angles to his body, his thumb parallel to his thigh. He couldn't have cared less, so long as he could pass and punt.

As if he were a top cat

When enough years had gone by to enable us to look back on them, we sometimes discussed the events leading to his accident. I maintain that the Ewells started it all, but Jem, who was four years my senior, said it started long before that. He said it began the summer Dill came to us, when Dill first gave us the idea of making Boo Radley come out.

← main idea of the book

I said if he wanted to take a broad view of the thing, it really began with Andrew Jackson. If General Jackson hadn't run the Creeks up the creek, Simon Finch would never have paddled up the Alabama, and where would we be if he hadn't? We were far too old to settle in

Karl Popper and Situational Analysis Alfonso Palacio-Vera, 2024-08-02 Situational Analysis represents Karl Popper's methodological proposal for the social sciences. Although it has been widely studied and interpreted, this book argues that Situational Analysis remains underestimated and undeveloped and if properly reformulated could yet become a broad methodological framework that encompasses both the historical social sciences and a large section of the theoretical social sciences. The first part of this book develops this idea by returning to Popper's texts. This book calls for both a reformulation of Situational Analysis and a clarification of the status and role of Popper's Rationality Principle. This book also develops Situational Analysis by addressing two aspects of the Problem Situation facing individual actors that are only sketched out in Popper's work: institutions and expectations. The second part of this book utilizes the reformulated version of Situational Analysis to shed light on the core methodological differences across some of the most widespread approaches in contemporary economics and sociology. In particular, by showing that many of these approaches are variants of the reformulated version of Situational Analysis presented in the first part of this book, this book argues that apparent methodological differences across these approaches may be reinterpreted as differences in the way social scientists reconstruct the Problem Situation facing individual actors This book will be vital reading for academic economists sociologists philosophers of science and other social scientists interested in methodology

Porcelain Analysis and Its Role in the Forensic Attribution of Ceramic Specimens Howell G. M. Edwards, 2021-11-09 The material for this book arose from the author's research into porcelains over many years as a collector in appreciation of their artistic beauty as an analytical chemist in the scientific interrogation of their body paste enamel pigments and glaze compositions and as a ceramic historian in the assessment of their manufactory foundations and their correlation with available documentation relating to their recipes and formulations A discussion of the role of analysis in the framework of a holistic assessment of artworks and specifically the composition of porcelain namely hard paste soft paste phosphatic bone china and magnesian is followed by its growth from its beginnings in China to its importation into Europe in the 16th Century A survey of European porcelain manufactories in the 17th and 18th Centuries is followed by a description of the raw materials minerals and recipes for porcelain manufacture and details of the chemistry of the high temperature firing processes involved therein The historical backgrounds to several important European factories are considered highlighting the imperfections in the written record that have been perpetuated through the ages The analytical chemical information derived from the interrogation of specimens from fragments shards or perfect finished items is reviewed and operational protocols established for the identification of a factory output from the data presented Several case studies are examined in detail across several porcelain manufactories to indicate the role adopted by modern analytical science with information provided at the quantitative elemental oxide and qualitative molecular spectroscopic levels where applicable The attribution of a specimen to a particular factory is either supported thereby or in some cases a potential reassessment of an earlier attribution is indicated Overall the information provided by analytical chemical data is seen to be extremely useful for porcelain identification and for its potential attribution in the context of a holistic forensic evaluation of hitherto unknown porcelain exemplars of questionable factory origins

A Critical Analysis of the Public Defender's Office in Duchesne County, Utah Based on the 2007-2008 Case Studies of Mr. Christopher Yvellez Michael Emmett

Brady,2013-06-17 This book is composed of two case studies Each case study evaluates the performance of the attorney serving as the public defender in Duchesne County Utah in 2007 and 2008 The case studies demonstrate that there are major flaws in the performance of the public defender with respect to very basic areas of expertise that would be expected of any competent public defender A defendant should expect to have the public defender engage in a the effective cross examination of prosecution witnesses on relevant points as opposed to concentrating on completely irrelevant issues b calling expert witnesses in order to impeach the veracity and credibility of prosecution witnesses c placing the defendant on the stand so that his her testimony would serve as a counterweight to the testimony of the prosecution witness s and d pointing out obvious false testimony made by prosecution witnesses such as the claim made in case study one made by a certain prosecution witness that she was the mother of the defendant when her age was 37 and the defendants age was 34 It is mathematically impossible for this to be the case Yet the Duchesne County prosecutor a Mr Charles specifically refers to this person as being the mother of the defendant when examining a county sheriff who likewise refers to this individual as the mother of the defendant Such gross incompetence violates the constitutional rights of the defendant to adequate competent representation
