1000 Candy Bar Sayings:

Guadalcanal's Longest Fight Dave R. Holland, 2025-10-30 Drawing from previously unknown and unused sources Holland paints a vivid picture of the desperate fights that broke the back of the Japanese forces ashore during that pivotal period of 1942 Holland's ground breaking account is vital to the understanding of the struggle to secure America's first major land victory in the Pacific Seth Paridon Historian Deputy Director Mississippi Armed Forces Museum The Matanikau battles proved to be the critical turning points in the land campaign for Guadalcanal the campaign's longest and bloodiest ground fight A five month conflict raged along the river and its basin The real importance of this area has long remained unrecognized yet the American and Japanese forces that fought over it knew that it was the key to the ultimate prize of Henderson Airfield In this mile long bloody tug of war from the river across to the hills and ravines were fought seven major battles and countless smaller skirmishes While countless books have been published on the Guadalcanal Campaign none have concentrated on the pivotal battles of the Matanikau basin Extensively researched this first in depth study of these important battles objectively showing all sides fills in this crucial missing piece of the history of the Guadalcanal campaign The well known Guadalcanal battlefield guide Dave Holland spent three years walking the battlefields researching and documenting what he found His unparalleled knowledge of the ground enables him to take the reader along with the men on the ground Using his investigative skills and military background he provides a fresh detailed and often completely new view of the land campaign establishing previously unknown facts and specifically illustrating their significance as the campaign's land turning points

Human Action and Its Explanation R. Tuomela, 2012-12-06 This book presents a unified and systematic philosophical account of human actions and their explanation and it does it in the spirit of scientific realism In addition various other related topics such as psychological concept formation and the nature of mental events and states are discussed This is due to the fact that the key problems in the philosophy of psychology are interconnected to a high degree This interwovenness has affected the discussion of these problems in that often the same topic is discussed in several contexts in the book I hope the reader does not find this too frustrating The theory of action developed in this book especially in its latter half is a causalist one In a sense it can be regarded as an explication and refinement of a typical common sense view of actions and the mental episodes causally responsible for them It has of course not been possible to discuss all the relevant philosophical problems in great detail even if I have regarded it as necessary to give a brief treatment of relatively many problems Rather I have concentrated on some key issues and hope that future research will help to clarify the rest

Congress. House. Committee on Ways and Means, 2000 Deeper Shades of Green James Schwab, 1994 Deeper Shades of Green documents the convergence of two great American movements conservation and the struggle for social justice Environmentalists once faulted for ignoring minorities and the poor are recognizing the need to find common ground Poor communities of all colors the worst targets of pollution and waste dumping are perceiving that environmental ills are part of their larger fight Spurred to action out of concern for their families health and safety they are bringing new energy and focus to mainstream conservation As a blue collar college student author Jim Schwab worked summers in a Midwest chemical plant and saw its toxic effects on fellow workers As an environmentalist and urban planner he was troubled by the relative absence of poor and nonwhite people in the conservation constituency All that began to change he recounts with the landmark Love Canal case which transformed a shy housewife named Lois Gibbs who has contributed a foreword to this book into a nationally known citizen activist and gave impetus to other neighborhood struggles In evocative hard hitting reportage Schwab profiles eight minority and blue collar communities that rose up against environmental injustice in an African American suburb of Chicago Louisiana's notorious Cancer Alley and an Ohio mill town among others in the process forging unprecedented bonds with national environmental groups He notes the special place of Native Americans in this web of newfound allies America's first victims of social injustice they have been among the strongest voices linking abuse of the land with abuse of human rights In a later chapter Schwab examines how industrial America can clean up its act spotlighting progressive businesses and utilities anti pollution technologies and other practical solutions But change starts with people power and that is his real subject African Americans Hispanics Native Americans Asian Americans and blue collar whites joining together in an environmental revival that is on the verge of shaking American politics at its roots
