Chathukulam, 2022-12-30 This book examines the renewed interest and commitment that countries across the world have shown in recent decades towards adopting models of decentralising or downsizing the state and moving towards more participatory models of government It examines systems of decentralised development such as self managing co operatives from a global and comparative perspective with a focus on developing countries Drawing on examples from Kerala and a few other states in India as well as Cuba Bangladesh and South Africa among other countries the book offers critical perspectives on the positive impacts of these experiments and the promises these offer for the future It discusses the challenges of implementing these models how well these work in coordination with the civil society and the state issues of transparency and democratic oversight as well as corruption and capture of power due to entrenched structures of inequality The volume analyses welfare and development models and self management interventions in countering the effects of the COVID 19 pandemic It also looks at the merits and demerits of decentralisation in countering the global socioeconomic and environmental crisis and the rise of authoritarian populism in many countries The book will be of interest to students and researchers of development studies political science business community development social justice as well as of co operative management programmes It will also appeal to students of political economy as well as development professionals think tanks and policymakers The Unmaking of Arab Socialism Ali Kadri, 2016-10-01

Conditions of malnutrition conflict or a combination of both characterize many Arab countries but this was not always so As in much of the developing world the immediate post independence period represented an age of hope and relative prosperity But imperialism did not sleep while these countries developed and it soon intervened to destroy these post independence achievements The two principal defeats and losses of territory to Israel in 1967 and 1973 as well as the others that followed left in their wake more than the destruction of assets and the loss of human lives the Arab World lost its ideology of resistance The Unmaking of Arab Socialism is an attempt to understand the reasons for Arab world's developmental descent from the pinnacle of Arab socialism to its present desolate conditions through an examination of the post colonial histories of Egypt Syria and Iraq
