Food and Drug Administration, 2012 FDA Orange Book 32nd Edition 2012 Approved Drug Products With Therapeutic Equivalence Evaluations The Serial Podcast and Storytelling in the Digital Age Ellen McCracken, 2017-02-03 Cover Title Copyright Contents Introduction The Unending Story 1 The Ethics of Serialized True Crime Fictionality in Serial Season One 2 Sounds Authentic The Acoustic Construction of Serial s Storyworld 3 Narrative Levels Theory of Mind and Sociopathy in True Crime Narrative Or How Is Serial Different from Your Average Dateline Episode 4 The Serial Commodity Rhetoric Recombination and Indeterminacy in the Digital Age 5 What We Know Convicting Narratives in NPR s Serial 6 The Impossible Ethics of Serial Sarah Koenig Foucault Lacan 7 Serial s Aspirational Aesthetics and Racial Erasure Contributors Index The United Nations Convention Against Torture and Its Optional Protocol Manfred Nowak, Moritz Birk, Giuliana Monina, 2019 This second edition of The United Nations Convention Against Torture A Commentary provides an updated analysis of all substantive organizational and procedural provisions of the Convention and its Optional Protocol ensuring that the volume continues to serve as a comprehensive guide for researchers and practitioners alike M1/M2 Macrophages: The Arginine Fork in the Road to Health and Disease Charles Dudley Mills, Laurel L Lenz, Klaus Ley, 2015-03-23 Macrophages have unique and diverse functions necessary for survival And in humans and other species they are the most abundant leukocytes in tissues The Innate functions of macrophages that are best known are their unusual ability to either Kill or Repair Since killing is a destructive process and repair is a constructive process it was stupefying how one cell could exhibit these 2 polar opposite functions However in the late 1980 s it was shown that macrophages have a unique ability to enzymatically metabolize Arginine to Nitric Oxide NO a gaseous non specific killer molecule or to Ornithine a precursor of polyamines and collagen for repair The dual Arginine metabolic capacity of macrophages provided a functional explanation for their ability to kill or repair Macrophages predominantly producing NO are called M1 and those producing Ornithine are called M2 M1 and M2 dominant responses occur in lower vertebrates and in T cell deficient vertebrates being directly driven by Damage and Pathogen Associated Molecular Patterns DAMP and PAMP Thus M1 and M2 are Innate responses that protect the host without Adaptive Immunity In turn M1 M2 is supplanting previous models in which T cells were necessary to activate or alternatively activate macrophages the Th1 Th2 paradigm M1 and M2 macrophages were named such because of the additional key findings that these macrophages stimulate Th1 and Th2 like responses respectively So in addition to their unique ability to kill or repair macrophages also govern Adaptive Immunity All of the foregoing would be less important if M1 or M2 dominant responses were not observed in disease But they are The best example to date is the predominance of M2 macrophages in human tumors where they act like wound repair macrophages and actively promote growth More generally humans have become M2 dominant because sanitation antibiotics and vaccines have lessened M1 responses And M2

dominance seems the cause of ever increasing allergies in developed countries Obesity represents a new and different circumstance Surfeit energy e g lipoproteins causes monocytes to become M1 dominant in the vessel walls causing plaques Because M1 or M2 dominant responses are clearly causative in many modern diseases there is great potential in developing the means to selectively stimulate or inhibit either M1 or M2 responses to kill or repair or to stimulate Th1 or Th2 responses depending on the circumstance The contributions here are meant to describe diseases of M1 or M2 dominance and promising new methodologies to modulate the fungible metabolic machinery of macrophages for better health

Contract for the International Carriage of Goods by Road Chiara Tincani,2022-08-31 This book discusses the intensification of international transport services as the consequence of an increasingly capillary economic integration In particular in some European countries such as Belgium the Rhine area of Germany and Denmark the application of the Geneva Convention on the carriage of goods from the case law point of view is even more thorough than that of national law Even though this is not the case for all countries the Geneva Convention is a core text both for the scientific debates on the issue and for commercial operators Therefore proposing an up to date reading of the Convention is of utmost importance from the practical point of view especially considering that thanks to the consistent application of the International Carriage of Goods by Road contract the Convention has become an essential prerequisite for the development of traffic In ten chapters this book reviews the Convention s structure and considers the case law approaches and trends of most countries belonging to the European Union It covers contracts and different negotiating models as well as compensation liability of the carrier and damages

Autism Spectrum Disorders: From Genotypes to Phenotypes Valsamma Eapen, Andrew J. Whitehouse, Charles Claudianos, Rudi Crnec, 2015-12-10 This Research Topic covers the pathogenetic processes in Autism Spectrum Disorder ASD that underpin the translation of genetic vulnerability to clinically significant symptoms Available research data in ASD suggests that it is a neural connectivity disorder and that the social communication and related neurobehavioural symptoms result from reduced synchronization between key social brain regions These interconnected neural systems can be understood through the relationship between functionally relevant anatomic areas and neurochemical pathways the programming of which are genetically modulated during neurodevelopment and mediated through a range of epigenetic and environmental modulators Elucidating the underlying molecular mechanisms can provide an invaluable window for understanding the neural wiring that regulates higher brain functions and consequent clinical phenotypes In keeping with the multi modal and diverse origins of ASD this Research Topic explores the genetic underpinnings and environmental modulation in the aetiology neural substrates biomarkers and endophenotypes that underlie clinical characteristics as well as neurochemical pathways and pathophysiological mechanisms that pave the way for therapeutic interventions Furthermore since genetically mediated deficits and consequent functional impairments involve activity dependent synapse development that depends on postnatal learning and experience the trajectory towards the final clinical expression could be modulated by early interventions that exploit the neuronal maturation and brain plasticity However identifying these diverse pathogenetic processes and tailoring interventions would require subtyping ASD into homogeneous subgroups In this regard this topic covers the current state of evidence in the literature through topic reviews as well as ongoing original work that provides tangible hypotheses and directions for future research

Dignity, Degrading Treatment and Torture in Human Rights Law Elaine Webster,2018-04-27 Although scholars have shown longstanding interest in the boundaries of interpretation of the right not to be subjected to torture and other prohibited harm the existing body of work does not sufficiently reflect the significance of the interpretive scope of degrading treatment This book argues that the degrading treatment element of the right is a crucial site of analysis in itself and for understanding the parameters of the right as a whole It addresses how methodologically the scope of meaning and application of the right not to be subjected to degrading treatment should best be identified and considers the implications thereof It systematically examines the diverse aspects of degrading treatment's scope from foundations of legal interpretation to the drivers of humiliation It draws on wide ranging literature and extensive analysis of more than 1 500 judgments of the European Court of Human Rights which has pioneered the right's interpretive growth The book aims to explore how the interpretive possibilities and limits of the right not to be subjected to degrading treatment turn upon the axes of human dignity and state responsibility and aims to show how this right's protection can be achieved as well as limited through processes of interpretation Dignity Degrading Treatment and Torture in Human Rights Law provides interpreters with analytical tools to advance the application of the right not to be subjected to torture cruel inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment in international regional and domestic human rights law It will appeal to all who have an interest in understanding the right's meaning development and potential scope of application as well as those with an interest in methodologies of human rights interpretation ISL Daily Stock Price Index ,1963 United States Code United States,2018 The Changing Nature of Religious Rights under International Law Malcolm Evans,Peter Petkoff,Julian Rivers,2015-03-19 The Declaration on the Elimination of All Forms of Intolerance and of Discrimination Based on Religion or Belief as proclaimed by the United Nations General Assembly in 1981 is the only universal human rights instrument specifically focusing on religious intolerance and discrimination However recent years have seen increasing controversy surrounding this right in both political and legal contexts The European Court of Human Rights has experienced a vast expansion in the number of cases it has had brought before it concerning religious freedom and politically the boundaries of the right have been much disputed This book provides a systematic analysis of the different approaches to religious rights which exist in public international law The book explores how particular institutional perspectives emerge in the context of these differing approaches It examines and challenges these institutional perspectives It identifies new directions for approaching religious rights through international law by examining existing legal tools and assesses their achievements and shortcomings It studies religious organisations support for international human rights protection as well as religious critique of international human rights and the development of an alternative religious Bills of Rights It investigates whether expressions of members belonging to religious minorities can be considered under the minority right to culture rather than the right to religion and discusses the benefits and shortcomings of such a route It analyses the reach and limits of the provisions in the 1981 Declaration identifies ways in which the right is being eroded as a concept and suggests new ways in which the right can be reinforced and protected United States Code , Features a collection of Web sites on United States codes that are about homelessness provided by the Legal Information Institute at Cornell Law School Includes sites on health services runaways and homeless youth and assistance programs UNESCO science report UNESCO,2015-11-09 There are fewer grounds today than in the past to deplore a North South divide in research and innovation This is one of the key findings of the UNESCO Science Report towards 2030 A large number of countries are now incorporating science technology and innovation in their national development agenda in order to make their economies less reliant on raw materials and more rooted in knowledge Most research and development R D is taking place in high income countries but innovation of some kind is now occurring across the full spectrum of income levels according to the first survey of manufacturing companies in 65 countries conducted by the UNESCO Institute for Statistics and summarized in this report For many lower income countries sustainable development has become an integral part of their national development plans for the next 10 20 years Among higher income countries a firm commitment to sustainable development is often coupled with the desire to maintain competitiveness in global markets that are increasingly leaning towards green technologies The quest for clean energy and greater energy efficiency now figures among the research priorities of numerous countries Written by more than 50 experts who are each covering the country or region from which they hail the UNESCO Science Report towards 2030 provides more country level information than ever before The trends and developments in science technology and innovation policy and governance between 2009 and mid 2015 described here provide essential baseline information on the concerns and priorities of countries that could orient the implementation and drive the assessment of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development in the years to come Daily Commercial Bulletin ,1885 Civic Multiculturalism in Singapore Terri-Anne Teo,2019-06-05 This book is about multiculturalism broadly defined as the recognition respect and accommodation of cultural differences Teo proposes a framework of multicultural denizenship that includes group specific rights and intercultural dialogue by problematising three issues a the unacknowledged misrecognition of non citizens within the scholarship of multiculturalism b uncritical treatment of citizens and non citizens as binary categories and c problematic parcelling of group specific rights with citizenship rights Drawing on the case of Singapore as an illustrative example where temporary labour migrants are culturally stereotyped socioeconomically disenfranchised and denied access to rights accorded only to citizens Teo argues that understandings of multiculturalism need to be expanded and adjusted to include a fluidity of identities spectrum of rights and shared experiences of marginalisation among citizens and non citizens Civic Multiculturalism in Singapore will be of interest to students and scholars of multiculturalism critical citizenship studies migration studies political theory and postcolonial studies
