

Analog Communication Viva Questions :-

Analog Communication is a data transmitting technique in which information signal is transmitted in analog nature. This always utilizes continuous signals to transmit data which may obtained from audio, image, video etc. An Analog signal is a variable signal continuous in both time and amplitude. To produce modulated signal inside the transmitter in Analog Communication, analog signal modulates the high carrier frequency. Then this modulated signal is transmitted with the help of antenna. All AM, FM audio transmission and T.V. transmission are the most preferable examples of analog communication. Analog communication is very important topic for the students preparing for GATE Exam(Electronics) Following questions will help to learn the basics concepts of analog communication.

1. Define Pam And Write Down Its Drawbacks?

Pulse Amplitude Modulation is the process by which the amplitude of the regularly spaced pulses varies according to the the amplitude of the modulating signal.

The drawbacks are:

- Since the amplitude of the pulses varies therefore the peak power of the modulating s/g is much greater.
- The bandwidth required for transmitting is greater since the amplitude varies.

2. How Can Be Aliasing Be Avoided?

Aliasing can be avoided if:

1. Sampling frequency must be greater than the frequency of the modulating signal.
2. The frequency should be band limited to maximum frequency of the signal(fm) Htz.
3. If prealias filter is used.

PSpice for Analog Communications Engineering Paul Tobin,2007-06-01 In PSpice for Analog Communications Engineering we simulate the difficult principles of analog modulation using the superb free simulation software Cadence Orcad PSpice V10 5 While use is made of analog behavioral model parts ABM we use actual circuitry in most of the simulation circuits For example we use the 4 quadrant multiplier IC AD633 as a modulator and import real speech as the modulating source and look at the trapezoidal method for measuring the modulation index Modulation is the process of relocating signals to different parts of the radio frequency spectrum by modifying certain parameters of the carrier in accordance with the modulating information signals In amplitude modulation the modulating source changes the carrier amplitude but in frequency modulation it causes the carrier frequency to change and in phase modulation it s the carrier phase The digital equivalent of these modulation techniques are examined in PSpice for Digital communications Engineering where we examine QAM FSK PSK and variants We examine a range of oscillators and plot Nyquist diagrams showing themarginal stability of these systems The superhetrodyne principle the backbone of modern receivers is simulated using discrete components followed by simulating complete AM and FM receivers In this exercise we examine the problems ofmatching individual stages and the use of double tuned RF circuits to accommodate the large FM signal bandwidth
