Towey,2014-04-10 In his work On Sense Perception Aristotle discusses the material conditions of perception starting with the sense organs and moving to the material basis of colour flavour and odour His Pythagorean account of hues as a ratio of dark to light was enthusiastically endorsed by Goethe against Newton as being true to the painter s experience Aristotle finishes with three problems about continuity First in what sense are indefinitely small colour patches or colour variations perceptible Secondly which perceptible leap discontinuously like light to fill a whole space which have to reach one point before another and do observers of the latter perceive the same thing if they are at different distances Thirdly how does the central sense permit genuinely simultaneous rather than staggered perception of different objects Alexander s highly explanatory commentary is most expansive on these problems of continuity His battery of objections to vision involving travel which would lead to collisions and interference by winds inspired a tradition of grading the five senses in respect of degrees of immateriality and of intentionality He also introduces us to paradoxes of Diodorus Cronus about the relations of the smallest perceptible to the largest perceptible size The Zen Manifesto: Freedom From Oneself Osho,2023-03-17 It is time ripe time for a Zen manifesto The Western intelligentsia have become acquainted with Zen have also fallen in love with Zen but they are still trying to approach Zen from the mind They have not yet come to the understanding that Zen has nothing to do with mind Its tremendous job is to get you out of the prison of mind It is not an intellectual philosophy it is not a philosophy at all Nor is it a religion because it has no fictions and no lies no consolations It is a lion s roar And the greatest thing that Zen has brought into the world is freedom from oneself All the religions have been talking about dropping your ego but it is a very weird phenomenon they want you to drop your ego and the ego is just a shadow of God God is the ego of the universe and the ego is your personality Just as God is the very center of existence according to religions your ego is the center of your mind of your personality They have all been talking about dropping the ego but it cannot be dropped unless God is dropped You cannot drop a shadow or a reflection unless the source of its manifestation is destroyed Karen's Chain Letter (Baby-Sitters Little Sister #101) Ann M.
