Photosynthesis, Respiration, and Climate Change Katie M. Becklin, Joy K. Ward, Danielle A. Way, 2021-05-31 Changes in atmospheric carbon dioxide concentrations and global climate conditions have altered photosynthesis and plant respiration across both geologic and contemporary time scales Understanding climate change effects on plant carbon dynamics is critical for predicting plant responses to future growing conditions Furthermore demand for biofuel fibre and food production is rapidly increasing with the ever expanding global human population and our ability to meet these demands is exacerbated by climate change This volume integrates physiological ecological and evolutionary perspectives on photosynthesis and respiration responses to climate change We explore this topic in the context of modeling plant responses to climate including physiological mechanisms that constrain carbon assimilation and the potential for plants to acclimate to rising carbon dioxide concentration warming temperatures and drought Additional chapters contrast climate change responses in natural and agricultural ecosystems where differences in climate sensitivity between different photosynthetic pathways can influence community and ecosystem processes Evolutionary studies over past and current time scales provide further insight into evolutionary changes in photosynthetic traits the emergence of novel plant strategies and the potential for rapid evolutionary responses to future climate conditions Finally we discuss novel approaches to engineering photosynthesis and photorespiration to improve plant productivity for the future The overall goals for this volume are to highlight recent advances in photosynthesis and respiration research and to identify key challenges to understanding and scaling plant physiological responses to climate change The integrated perspectives and broad scope of research make this volume an excellent resource for both students and researchers in many areas of plant science including plant physiology ecology evolution climate change and biotechnology For this volume 37 experts contributed chapters that span modeling empirical and applied research on photosynthesis and respiration responses to climate change Authors represent the following seven countries Australia 6 Canada 9 England 5 Germany 2 Spain 3 and the United States 12 Energy for Life Betty D. Mayo, 1970 Photosynthesis, Photorespiration, And Plant Productivity Israel Zelitch, 2012-12-02 Photosynthesis Photorespiration and Plant Productivity provides a basis for understanding the main factors concerned with regulating plant productivity in plant communities The book describes photosynthesis and other processes that affect the productivity of plants from the standpoint of enzyme chemistry chloroplasts leaf cells and single leaves Comprised of nine chapters the book covers the biochemical and photochemical aspects of photosynthesis respiration associated with photosynthetic tissues and photosynthesis and plant productivity in single leaves and in stands It provides illustrated and diagrammatic discussion and presents the concepts in outlined form to help readers understand the concepts efficiently Moreover this book explores the rates of enzymatic reactions and the detailed structure and function of chloroplasts and other organelles and their variability It explains the mechanism of photosynthetic electron transport and phosphorylation and the importance of diffusive resistances to carbon dioxide assimilation especially the role of stomata It also discusses the importance of dark respiration in diminishing productivity the differences in net photosynthesis that occur between many species and varieties and the influence of climate to photosynthetic reactions The book is an excellent reference for teachers as well as undergraduate and graduate students in biology plant physiology and agriculture Research professionals working on the disciplines of plant production and food supply will also find this book invaluable
