14 November Geography Memo:

Title Announcement Bulletin ,1957 American Geography and Geographers Geoffrey J. Martin,2015 The rise of American geography as a distinctive science in the United States straddles the 19th and 20th centuries extending from the post Civil war period to 1970 American Geography and Geographers Toward Geographic Science is the first book to thoroughly and richly explicate this history Its author Geoffrey J Martin the foremost historian on the subject and official archivist of the Association of American Geographers amassed a wealth of primary sources from archives worldwide which enable him to chart the evolution of American geography with unprecedented detail and context From the initial influence of the German school to the emergence of Geography as a unique discipline in American universities and thereafter Martin clarifies the what how and when of each advancement Expansive discussion of the arguments made controversies ignited and research voyages move hand in hand with the principals who originated and animated them Davis Jefferson Huntington Bowman Johnson Sauer Hartshorne and many more From their grasp of local regional global and cultural phenomena geographers also played pivotal roles in world historical events including the two world wars and their treaties as the US became the dominant global power American Geography and Geographers Toward Geographical Science is a conclusive study of the birth and maturation of the science It will be of interest to geographers teachers and students of geography and all those compelled by the story of American Geography and those who founded and developed it Decolonising Geography? Disciplinary Histories and the End of the British Empire in Africa, 1948-1998 Ruth Craggs,Hannah Neate,2023-10-16 DECOLONISING GEOGRAPHY This book presents an extraordinarily sensitive account of geography s histories in five African countries subjected to British colonial rule Craggs and Neate draw together political and imaginative processes of decolonisation through an innovative biographical approach that humanizes and enlivens the story of our academic discipline It will be an invaluable resource for those seeking a deeper understanding of decolonisation its recent trajectories and far reaching implications on the African continent Shari Daya Affiliate Associate Professor in Environmental and Geographical Science University of Cape Town By placing the experiences ideas and practices of African geographers in the center of their analyses Craggs and Neate provide an unprecedented account of historical and contemporary decolonizing struggles within Geography and the academy This book should be required reading for all those looking to decolonize the discipline and dislodge it from its Global North histories institutions and ideologies Mona Domosh Professor of Geography The Joan P and Edward J Foley Jr 1933 Professor Dartmouth College This meticulous work explores how colonialism decolonization and postcolonialism shaped African geography and geographers It sheds light on efforts to Africanize the discipline a process which I was both witness to and a participant in Stanley Okafor Professor of Geography Retired University of Ibadan How did a generation of academic geographers engage with constitutional decolonisation during the end of the British empire in Africa In Decolonising Geography Disciplinary Histories and the End of the British Empire in Africa 1948 1998 Ruth Craggs and Hannah Neate explore how the teaching research administration and activism of geographers in Africa shaped the discipline and the post colonial geopolitics of the continent The authors follow the professional lives of individual geographers to provide fresh insights into decolonisation in the former British Empire in Africa drawing from extensive archival research and more than 40 oral history interviews with geographers in Ghana Nigeria South Africa Tanzania and the UK Decolonising Geography is a must read for any reader in the UK and Africa with an interest in the relationships between geography and decolonisation

The Building of Civil Europe 1951-1972 Stefanie Pukallus, 2018-11-27 This book argues that early European Commission officials envisaged an integrated civil Europe from the outset Largely overlooked is the fact that between 1951 and 1972 there was a group of European Commission and before that the High Authority officials who wished to build a Civil Europe to sit alongside an economic and political Europe This Civil Europe was it was hoped to become home to a European citizenry equipped with a European civil consciousness that complemented their national and local loyalties To this end these officials pioneered a series of civil initiatives designed to begin the process of building Civil Europe This book analyses three such civil initiatives the building of the first European School the European Community's participation in Expo 58 and the production of the European Community's own documentaries From the start Europe was designed and conceived of in terms of a European general civil public and not solely in terms dictated by economic and political interests

Geopolitics, Geography and Strategic History Geoffrey Sloan, 2017-02-17 This work explains the course of international politics from the rebirth of the German Empire to the rise of China with particular though not exclusive reference to spatial relationships

Imperial History and the Global Politics of Exclusion Amanda Behm, 2017-10-24 Examining the rise of the field of imperial history in Britain and wider webs of advocacy this book demonstrates how intellectuals and politicians promoted settler colonialism excluded the subject empire and laid a precarious framework for decolonization History was politics in late nineteenth century Britain But the means by which influential thinkers sought to steer democracy and state development also consigned vast populations to the margins of imperial debate and policy From the 1880s onward politicians intellectuals and journalists erected a school of thought based on exclusion and deferral that segregated past and future backwardness and civilization validating racial discrimination in empire all while disavowing racism These efforts however engendered powerful anticolonial backlash and cast a long shadow over the closing decades of imperial rule Bringing to life the forgotten struggles which have in effect defined our times Imperial History and the Global Politics of Exclusion is an important reinterpretation of the intellectual history of the British Empire

a founder of modern social anthropology This biography challenges popular stereotypes of him as a misplaced positivist and colonial conservative It shows Radcliffe Brown to be a thoroughly cosmopolitan scholar a committed fieldworker and a sharp critic of colonialism Radcliffe Brown engaged strategically with colonial authorities to further the interests of his discipline and invoked scientific credentials to critique central aspects of colonial rule His struggle for intellectual autonomy and advocacy of a comparative sociological approach speaks to many contemporary concerns

Antisemitism and Islamophobia in Europe James Renton, Ben Gidley, 2017-04-05 This is the first book to examine the relationship between European antisemitism and Islamophobia from the Crusades until the twenty first century in the principal flashpoints of the two racisms With case studies ranging from the Balkans to the UK the contributors take the debate away from politicised polemics about whether or not Muslims are the new Jews Much previous scholarship and public discussion has focused on comparing European ideas about Jews and Judaism in the past with contemporary attitudes towards Muslims and Islam This volume rejects this approach Instead it interrogates how the dynamic relationship between antisemitism and Islamophobia has evolved over time and space The result is the uncovering of a previously unknown story in which European ideas about Jews and Muslims were indeed connected but were also ripped apart Religion empire nation building and war all played their part in the complex evolution of this relationship As well as a study of prejudice this book also opens up a new area of inquiry how Muslims Jews and others have responded to these historically connected racisms The volume brings together leading scholars in the emerging field of antisemitism Islamophobia studies who work in a diverse range of disciplines anthropology history sociology critical theory and literature Together they help us to understand a Europe in which Jews and Arabs were once called Semites and today are widely thought to be on two different sides of the War on Terror

Britain's Levantine Empire, 1914-1923 Daniel-Joseph MacArthur-Seal, 2021 Britain's Levantine Empire 1914-1923 tells a unique history of the impact of British soldiers and government policy on the Eastern Mediterranean during the First World War and its aftermath

Africa as a Living Laboratory Helen Tilley, 2011-04-15 Tropical Africa was one of the last regions of the world to experience formal European colonialism a process that coincided with the advent of a range of new scientific specialties and research methods Africa as a Living Laboratory is a far reaching study of the thorny relationship between imperialism and the role of scientific expertise environmental medical racial and anthropological in the colonization of British Africa A key source for Helen Tilley's analysis is the African Research Survey a project undertaken in the 1930s to explore how modern science was being applied to African problems This project both embraced and recommended an interdisciplinary approach to research on Africa that Tilley argues underscored the heterogeneity of African environments and the interrelations among the problems being studied While the aim of British colonialists was unquestionably to transform and modernize Africa their efforts Tilley contends were often unexpectedly

subverted by scientific concerns with the local and vernacular Meticulously researched and gracefully argued Africa as a Living Laboratory transforms our understanding of imperial history colonial development and the role science played in both

Handbook of Research on Innovation and Clusters Charlie Karlsson,2008 This volume is an important step in furthering the discussion about how cluster strategies work and the implications for theory and policy Jennifer Clark Review of Regional Studies The role of innovations and clusters has increasingly dominated local and regional development policies in recent decades This authoritative and accessible Handbook considers important aspects of high tech clusters analyses insightful cluster case studies and provides a number of recommendations for cluster policies The chapters in this Handbook are written by international experts in the field and present evidence of the scope effects and potential of clusters as concentrations of innovative activities The authors emphasize that cluster development is not the only option for local and regional development and argue that for cluster policies to be worthwhile supporting policies in fields such as education R D transportation and communication infrastructure must accompany most cluster policies Furthermore several contributions stress that clusters often develop along a life cycle that may end with decline and even the disappearance of clusters Consequently this Handbook provides the basis for improving both research on innovation and clusters and the formulation and implementation of cluster policies Furnishing the reader with rich comprehensive discussion of innovations and clusters this Handbook will be an essential source for researchers and academics in the field as well as policymakers planners and specialists development experts and agencies and consultants Making History in Twentieth-century Quebec Ronald Rudin,1997-01-01 The first comprehensive examination of the way French speaking Quebecers have written about their past in the 20th century Rudin s analysis offers new ways of thinking about Quebec society over the course of this century

The Reagan Presidency W. Elliot Brownlee,Hugh Davis Graham,2003 Table of contents Research Catalogue American Geographical Society of New York,1962 Subject Index to Unclassified ASTIA Documents Defense Documentation Center (U.S.),1960 A Comparative Political Ecology of Exurbia Laura E. Taylor,Patrick T. Hurley,2016-05-26 This book is about politics and planning outside of cities where urban political economy and planning theories do not account for the resilience of places that are no longer rural and where local communities work hard to keep from ever becoming urban By examining exurbia as a type of place that is no longer simply rural or only tied to the economies of global resources e g mining forestry and agriculture we explore how changing landscapes are planned and designed not to be urban that is to look function and feel different from cities and suburbs in spite of new home development and real estate speculation The book s authors contend that exurbia is defined by the persistence of rural economies the conservation of rural character and protection of natural ecological systems all of which are critical components of the contentious local politics that seek to limit growth Comparative political ecology is used as an organizing concept throughout the book to describe the nature of exurban areas in the U S and Australia although exurbs are common to many countries

The essays each describe distinctive case studies with each chapter using the key concepts of competing rural capitalisms and uneven environmental management to describe the politics of exurban change This systematic analysis makes the processes of exurban change easier to see and understand Based on these case studies seven characteristics of exurban places are identified rural character access local economic change ideologies of nature changes in land management coalition building and land use planning This book will be of interest to those who study planning conservation and land development issues especially in areas of high natural amenity or environmental value There is no political ecology book quite like this neither one solely focused on cases from the developed world in this case the United States and Australia nor one that specifically harnesses different case studies from multiple areas to develop a central organizing perspective of landscape change
