The Problem of Social Inequality Scott G. McNall, 2015-12-07 Within and among nations rising levels of social inequality threaten our collective future Currently upwards of 80% of people's life chances are determined by factors over which they have absolutely no control Social inequality threatens the democratic project because it destroys the trust on which governments depend and it gives rise to corrupt political and economic institutions How can we get out of the traps we have created for ourselves We need to reboot capitalism Drawing on diverse examples from a range of countries McNall explains the social economic and ecological traps we have set for ourselves and develops a set of rules of resilience that are necessary conditions for the creation and maintenance of democratic societies and a set of rules essential for creating a sustainable future

The Elgar Companion to Geography, Transdisciplinarity and Sustainability Fausto O. Sarmiento, Larry M. Frolich, 2020-05-29 With contributions from top geographers this Companion frames sustainability as exemplar of transdisciplinary science critical geography while improving future scenarios debating perspectives between rich North poor South modern urban backwards rural and everything in between The Companion has five sections that carry the reader from foundational considerations to integrative trends to resources use and accommodation to examples highlighting non traditional pathways to a postscript about cooperation of the industrialized Earth and a prognosis of the road ahead for the new geographies of sustainability Insight Turkey 2015 - Fall 2015 (Vol. 17, No. 4) , Last year was the year of elections in Turkey with two parliamentary elections and months long electoral campaigns that dominated the political agenda of the country The parliamentary elections of June 7 2015 brought an end to the AK Party s 12 year long era of parliamentary majority and single party government in Turkey Nevertheless the endeavors to form a coalition government could not be concluded successfully and another election appeared on the horizon The country was ruled by an AK Party led interim government and the elections were repeated five months later on November 1 2015 While close in time the two elections were quite distant with regard to the political contexts in which they were carried out and in their respective results The November elections witnessed a comeback for the AK Party which increased its votes by over 9 points with the addition of five million new votes in the ballot box The Shadow of Kenyan Democracy Dominic Burbidge,2016-03-09 Why has democracy failed to reduce corruption in Kenya Framing the challenge in game theoretical terms Dominic Burbidge examines how mutual expectations between citizens dictate the success or failure of political reforms Since 1992 Kenya has conducted multiparty elections with the hope of promoting accountability and transparency in government This is being undermined by ongoing corruption and an increasingly centralised state response to terrorism Providing a nuanced assessment of democracy s difficult road in Kenya Burbidge discusses the independent role being played by widespread social expectations of corruption Through tracking average views of the average person it is possible to identify a threshold beyond which society suffers mutually reinforcing negative social expectations This trend is the shadow of Kenyan democracy and must be treated as a policy challenge on its own terms before institutional reforms will be successful Towards Good Order at Sea Thomas Mandrup,Francois Vre~,2015-03-01 The problems originating from the resultant bad order at sea can be directly felt on land when smuggling terrorism and related criminal activities operate more or less unhindered The book provides an important mapping of the challenges preventing good order at sea off the African coast and East Africa in particular Rear Admiral N Wang Commandant Royal Danish Defence College Modelling Aging and Migration Effects on Spatial Labor Markets Roger R. Stough,Karima Kourtit,Peter Nijkamp,Uwe Blien,2018-12-07 The aging and migration megatrends and their impact on spatial regional and local labor market performance is the core theme of this book and thus together define its scope and focus The contributions provide an overview of key aging and migration issues in various countries together with analyses of their varied impacts on regional labor markets Systematic database research and related empirical analyses are used to map out the complex and dynamic nature of these trends while cutting edge economic and modeling techniques are used to analyze them In closing the book critically reviews and assesses selected policy measures designed to cope with the effects of aging and migration on regional labor markets
