Sick Schools David V. Anderson, 2020-01-10 Who's afraid of for-profit education Those who work in non-profit or government owned and operated schools Many parents and other stakeholders have been made fearful by this education establishment What's more important to humans nutrition or education Nutrition is more important because it is the prerequisite for other human activities including education What organizations provide food and who pays for the food Food is provided by for-profit farmers for-profit processors for-profit wholesalers and for-profit retailers Most food is purchased with the consumer's own money but a significant amount is purchased by low-income individuals using food stamps Why can't education be provided similarly using education stamps We trust for-profit enterprises to provide our food Why can't we trust for-profit enterprises to provide K-12 education Fearmongers have frightened us and made us into gullible compliant socialists who despise commercial activities in education Go to the supermarket and ponder its marvelous array of foods and then contemplate how a for-profit K-12 education sector would please and amaze its customers Elgar

Enterprise Interoperability VII Kai Mertins,Ricardo Jardim-Gonçalves,Keith Popplewell,João P. Mendonça,2016-10-18 A concise reference to the state of the art in systems interoperability Enterprise Interoperability VII will be of great value to engineers and computer scientists working in manufacturing and other process industries and to software engineers and electronic and manufacturing engineers working in the academic environment Furthermore it shows how knowledge of the meaning within information and the use to which it will be put have to be held in common between enterprises for consistent and efficient inter enterprise networks Over 30 papers ranging from academic research through case studies to industrial and administrative experience of interoperability show how in a scenario of globalised markets where the capacity to cooperate with other organizations efficiently is essential in order to remain economically socially and environmentally cost effective the most innovative digitized and networked enterprises ensure that their systems and applications are able to interoperate across heterogeneous collaborative networks of independent organizations. This goal of interoperability is essential not only from the perspective of the individual enterprise but also in the business structures that are now emerging such as complex collaborating networks of suppliers and customers, virtual enterprises, interconnected organisations or extended enterprises as well as in mergers and acquisitions. Establishing efficient and relevant collaborative situations requires the management of interoperability from a dynamic point of view, a relevant and efficient collaboration of organizations may require adaptation to remain in line with changing objectives, evolving resources, unexpected events etc. Many of the papers contained in this, the eighth volume of Proceedings of the I ESA Conferences, have examples and illustrations calculated to deepen understanding and generate new ideas. The I ESA 16 Conference from which this book is drawn was organized by the Escola de Engenharia da Universidade do Minho on behalf of the European Virtual Laboratory for Enterprise Interoperability, INTEROP VLab and Interop VLab Portuguese Pole.

Minority Serving Institutions

National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Policy and Global Affairs, Board on Higher Education and Workforce, Committee on Closing the Equity Gap: Securing Our STEM Education and Workforce Readiness Infrastructure in the Nation's Minority Serving Institutions, 2019-03-05. There are over 20 million young people of color in the United States whose representation in STEM education pathways and in the STEM workforce is still far below their numbers in the general population. Their participation could help re-establish the United States preeminence in STEM innovation and productivity while also increasing the number of well-educated STEM workers. There are nearly 700 minority serving institutions (MSIs) that provide pathways to STEM educational success and workforce readiness for millions of students of color and do so in a mission-driven and intentional manner. They vary substantially in their origins, missions, student demographics, and levels of institutional selectivity. But in general, their service to the nation provides a gateway to higher education and the workforce, particularly for underrepresented students of color and those from low-income and first-generation-to-college backgrounds. The challenge for the nation is how to capitalize on the unique strengths and attributes of these institutions and to equip them with the resources, exceptional faculty, talent, and vital infrastructure needed to educate and train an increasingly critical portion of current and future generations of scientists, engineers, and health professionals. Minority Serving Institutions examines the nation's MSIs and identifies promising programs and effective strategies that have the highest potential return on investment for the nation by increasing the quantity and quality of MSI STEM graduates. This study also provides critical information and perspective about the importance of MSIs to other stakeholders in the nation's system of higher education and the organizations that support them.
