How To Read And Critique A Scientific Research Article: Notes To Guide Students Reading Primary Literature (With Teaching Tips For Faculty Members) Foong May Yeong,2014-01-16 Given the explosion of information and knowledge in the field of Life Sciences adapting primary literature as materials in course work as part of active learning seems to be more effective in improving scientific literacy among science undergraduates than the pure transmission of content knowledge using traditional textbooks In addition students also read research articles as part of undertaking laboratory research projects useful for preparing them for graduate school As such a good grasp of reading and analytical skills is needed for students to understand how their research project contributes to the field that they are working in Such skills are being taught at UK and USA universities In Asia this approach in teaching has not yet been as widespread although similar ideas are beginning to be used in education Written as a quick guide for undergraduate students and faculty members dealing with scientific research articles as part of a module or research project this book will be useful especially in Asia for students and faculty members as the universities look to incorporating the use of scientific research articles in their undergraduate teaching For Life Science students the first time they encounter a primary literature can be rather daunting though with proper guidance they can overcome the initial difficulties and become confident in dealing with scientific articles This guidebook provides a structured approach to reading a research article guiding the reader step by step through each section with tips on how to look out for key points and how to evaluate each section Overall by helping undergraduate students to overcome their anxieties in reading scientific literature the book will enable the students to appreciate better the process of scientific investigations and how knowledge is derived in science      Language in Writing Instruction María Estela Brisk, 2020-09-22 Accessible and engaging this book offers a comfortable entry point to integrating language instruction in writing units in grades 3-8. A full understanding of language development is necessary for teaching writing in a successful and meaningful way. Applying a Systemic Functional Linguistics (SFL) approach, Mar a Brisk embraces an educator's perspective, breaks down the challenges of teaching language for non-linguists, and demonstrates how teachers can help students express their ideas and create cohesive texts. With a focus on the needs of all students, including bilingual and English language learners, Brisk addresses topics necessary for successful language instruction and moves beyond vocabulary and grammar to address meaning-making and genre. This book provides a wealth of tools and examples for practice and includes helpful instructional resources that teachers can return to time after time. Moving from theory to practice, this teacher-friendly text is a vital resource for courses in language education programs, in-service teacher training seminars, and for pre-service and practicing English Language Arts (ELA) teachers who want to expand their teaching abilities and knowledge bases. This book features a sample unit and a reference list of instructional resources.

The Logic of the Spirit in Human Thought and Experience Keith J. White, Dana R. Wright, 2015-02-26 In March 2012, a small consultation convened on the campus of Princeton Theological Seminary where James E. Loder Jr. had served for forty years as the Mary D. Synnott Professor of the Philosophy of Christian Education. Members from the Child Theology Movement had begun to read Loder's work, and they wanted to go further. So they invited former students of Loder's to meet with them for conversations about things that really mattered to them and to Loder: human beings and especially children; the church's witness to the gospel of Jesus Christ; and discerning the work of Spiritus Creator in the postmodern world. The conversations proved rich and rewarding, and some would even say they took on a life of their own: serious scholarship set to the music of the Spirit's communion, creating artistry, forming new relationships, inspiring new ideas, and sustaining all of it amid much laughter, joy, and hope. These essays, taken from the papers delivered at the consultation, are offered as a means of extending that conversation inspired by Loder's interdisciplinary practical theological science and his discernment of the Positive Educational Approaches to Teaching Effectiveness and Student Well-being Hans Henrik Knoop, Mirna Nel, Sufen Chen, Rebecca Shankland, Llewellyn Ellardus Van Zyl, Matthew Cole, 2022-11-08      Handbook of Writing Research Charles A. MacArthur, Steve Graham, Jill Fitzgerald, 2025-05-28 Synthesizing the breadth of current research on the teaching and learning of writing, the third edition of this definitive handbook has more than 90% new content reflecting the growth and dynamism of the field.
