World Development Report 2009 World Bank, 2008-11-04 Rising densities of human settlements migration and transport to reduce distances to market and specialization and trade facilitated by fewer international divisions are central to economic development The transformations along these three dimensions density distance and division are most noticeable in North America Western Europe and Japan but countries in Asia and Eastern Europe are changing in ways similar in scope and speed World Development Report 2009 Reshaping Economic Geography concludes that these spatial transformations are essential and should be encouraged The conclusion is not without controversy Slum dwellers now number a billion but the rush to cities continues Globalization is believed to benefit many but not the billion people living in lagging areas of developing nations High poverty and mortality persist among the world's bottom billion while others grow wealthier and live longer lives Concern for these three billion often comes with the prescription that growth must be made spatially balanced The WDR has a different message economic growth is seldom balanced and efforts to spread it out prematurely will jeopardize progress The Report documents how production becomes more concentrated spatially as economies grow proposes economic integration as the principle for promoting successful spatial transformations revisits the debates on urbanization territorial development and regional integration and shows how today's developers can reshape economic geography

Thameslink rolling stock procurement Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Transport Committee, 2011-12-16 The procurement process completed by the Department for Transport which led to the selection of Siemens rather than Bombardier as the preferred bidder for new Thameslink rolling stock should be independently reviewed by the National Audit Office The Transport Committee could not evaluate whether the decision to choose Siemens was arrived at correctly because all of the bids were and remain confidential It is believed that it is in the public interest to have an independent review to evaluate whether this massive contract was awarded correctly on the basis of the criteria in the original invitation to tender The Transport Committee has therefore written to the Comptroller and Auditor General to request he undertake this work and report to Parliament before summer 2012 There is now widespread agreement that the criteria used in the procurement were too narrowly drawn in excluding socio economic factors

College Admissions Data Sourcebook Northeast Edition Bound 2010-11 ,2010-09 For Love or Money Nancy Folbre,2012-09-06 As women moved into the formal labor force in large numbers over the last forty years care work traditionally provided primarily by women has increasingly shifted from the family arena to the market Child care elder care care for the disabled and home care now account for a growing segment of low wage work in the United States and demand for such work will only increase as the baby boom generation ages But the expanding market provision of care has created new economic anxieties and raised pointed questions Why do women continue to do most care work both paid and unpaid Why does care work remain low paid when the quality of care is so highly valued How effective and equitable are public policies toward dependents in the United States In For Love and Money an interdisciplinary team of experts explores the theoretical dilemmas of care provision and provides an unprecedented empirical overview of the looming problems for the care sector in the United States Drawing on diverse disciplines and areas of expertise For Love and Money develops an innovative framework to analyze existing care policies and suggest potential directions for care policy and future research

Contributors Paula England Nancy Folbre and Carrie Leana explore the range of motivations for caregiving such as familial responsibility or limited job prospects and why both love and money can be efficient motivators They also examine why women tend to specialize in the provision of care citing factors like job discrimination social pressure or the personal motivation to provide care reported by many women Suzanne Bianchi Nancy Folbre and Douglas Wolf estimate how much unpaid care is being provided in the United States and show that low income families rely more on unpaid family members for their child and for elder care than do affluent families With low wages and little savings these families often find it difficult to provide care and earn enough money to stay afloat Candace Howes Carrie Leana and Kristin Smith investigate the dynamics within the paid care sector and find problematic wages and working conditions including high turnover inadequate training and a pay penalty for workers who enter care jobs These conditions have consequences poor job quality in child care and adult care also leads to poor care quality In their chapters Janet Gornick Candace Howes and Laura Braslow provide a systematic inventory of public policies that directly shape the provision of care for children or for adults who need personal assistance such as family leave child care tax credits and Medicaid funded long term care They conclude that income and variations in states policies are the greatest factors determining how well and for whom the current system works Despite the demand for care work very little public policy attention has been devoted to it Only three states for example have enacted paid family leave programs Paid or unpaid care costs those who provide it At the heart of For Love and Money is the understanding that the quality of care work in the United States matters not only for those who receive care but also for society at large which benefits from the nurturance and maintenance of human capabilities As care work gravitates from the family to the formal economy this volume clarifies the pressing need for America to fundamentally rethink its care policies and increase public investment in this increasingly crucial sector

The Top Books of the Year Andrew Foster Report 2009 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have charmed audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed. Andrew Foster Report 2009 : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Andrew Foster Report 2009 : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
