commonly overlook how vital the financial sector is for progress Marcel Jeucken sets out to rectify this state of affairs in a style which is accessible to those with no experience of environmental finance issues He provides a comprehensive account of their interdependence why the financial sector is crucial to achieving sustainability and why the triple bottom line of commercial environmental and social success points the way forward for banking From a systematic assessment of major banks around the world he presents a comprehensive account of current best practice an analysis of the differences in approach and performance and recommendations of actions and policies for improved performance that will contribute to sustainable development

Ahead of the Curve K. Green,P. Groenewegen,P.S. Hofman,2012-12-06 The debate on sustainable production often ends in discussions on the feasibility of far reaching changes in relation to the competitiveness of companies Industry itself and policy makers tend to back away from engaging in profound processes of industrial transformation Examples of companies who have voluntarily moved beyond what is seen as reasonable and feasible can overcome this deadlock This book collects a fine sample of companies who have taken up their responsibility in this respect To quote the editors of this book They are cases that might provide other firms and policy makers with ideas for innovative environmental responses that are outside the slowly rising trend of improvement that we are currently observing in short the cases are of firms and ideas that are ahead of the curve The editors and many of the authors of this volume are members of the Greening of Industry Network and have been debating with one another for years Founded in 1991 the Greening of Industry Network comprises over 1500 individuals representing academia business public interest labor and government from more than 50 countries Participants work together to build policies and strategies toward creating a sustainable future through many vehicles coordinating research efforts publications planning and participating in workshops public forums and conferences To provide benefit to broader society the Network stimulates public dialogue and brings together academic researchers from many disciplines with other stakeholders who traditionally do not work together in coalitions
