A World Art History and Its Objects David Carrier, 2008-11-28 Is writing a world art history possible Does the history of art as such even exist outside the Western tradition Is it possible to consider the history of art in a way that is not fundamentally Eurocentric In this highly readable and provocative book David Carrier a philosopher and art historian does not attempt to write a world art history himself Rather he asks the question of how an art history of all cultures could be written or whether it is even possible to do so He also engages the political and moral issues raised by the idea of a multicultural art history Focusing on a consideration of intersecting artistic traditions Carrier negotiates the way meaning and understanding shift or are altered when a visual object from one culture for example is inserted into the visual tradition of another culture A World Art History and Its Objects proposes the use of temporal narrative as a way to begin to understand a multicultural art history

A World of Art Henry M. Sayre, 2013 Henry Sayres art appreciation text The World of Art is an amazing introduction to the world of art Students with little background in the arts routinely reach out to Henry to share how the text has influenced their lives This is so meaningful because Henrys inspiration for A World of Art was his own students His students wanted to see themselves reflected in their textbook Henry decided to write an art appreciation textbook that represented all artists not just the Western canon found at that time in the other texts He also created a text that fostered critical thinking through looking at talking about and questioning works of art for his students The result was A World of Art and the new seventh edition continues to build on those two themes coverage of contemporary global art and a strong critical thinking framework throughout the text This edition includes new ways for students to experience art with the new MyArtsLab which includes ART 21 videos Discovering Art simulations Closer Look tours and an eText of Writing about Art also by Henry Sayre Amazon com

Can Art History be Made Global? Monica Juneja, 2023-03-20 The book responds to the challenge of the global turn in the humanities from the perspective of art history A global art history it argues need not follow the logic of economic globalization nor seek to bring the entire world into its fold Instead it draws on a theory of transculturation to explore key moments of an art history that can no longer be approached through a facile globalism How can art historical analysis theorize relationships of connectivity that have characterized cultures and regions across distances How can it meaningfully handle issues of commensurability or its absence among cultures By shifting the focus of enquiry to South Asia the five meditations that make up this book seek to translate intellectual insights of experiences beyond Euro America into globally intelligible analyses

The Bible and Art Janet Mellor, 2016-02-29 This book explores the revelation of God s love in the mystery of the covenant and shows how this potent theological concept has inspired artists through the ages to reflect on the nature of divine interaction with mankind It traces the development of the covenantal relationship between God and the Jewish people as given in the Hebrew Scriptures and examines the Christian concept of the New Covenant portrayed by Gospel writers and those of the early Church in the New Testament Alongside this the book matches a variety of artistic work in which these texts are made visible The reference to over 300 works of art is a mere sample and will inspire readers to research this hugely rich resource both for their own interest and for use in teaching about the Christian faith and its important Jewish roots Learning in the contemporary world often lifts the emphasis from mere words to illustration and this book shows clearly that throughout history the Christian world has sought to use art to aid understanding of biblical texts Art continues to be used hand in hand with the Scriptures in present day classrooms as well as in group and individual study This volume provides a basis for the exploration of God's love in his covenantal relationship with the People of God ancient and modern and will serve to inspire an investigation of the huge range of artistic interpretation which is available through twenty first century technology

The Conventional Lies of Our Civilization, from the German \(7th Ed.\) of Max Nordau Max Simon Nordau, 1884 Artistic Freedom in International Law Eleni Polymenopoulou, 2023-04-13. The book examines in detail the essence, nature and scope of artistic freedom as a human right. It explains the legal problems associated with the lack of a precise definition of the term art and discusses the emergence of a distinct right to artistic freedom under international law. Drawing on a variety of case studies primarily from the field of visual arts but also performance, street art and graffiti, it examines potentially applicable defences for those types of artistic expression that are perceived as inappropriate, ugly, offensive, disturbing or even obscene and transgressive. The book also offers a view on global controversies such as Charlie Hebdo and the Danish Cartoons attempting to explain the subtleties of offenses related to religious sensibilities and beliefs. It also examines the legitimacy of restrictions on extremist expressions in the case of arts involving criminal arts such as child pornography.

Introduction to Controlled Vocabularies Patricia Harpring, 2010-04-13. This detailed book is a how to guide to building controlled vocabulary tools, cataloging and indexing cultural materials with terms and names from controlled vocabularies and using vocabularies in search engines and databases to enhance discovery and retrieval online. Also covered are the following: What are controlled vocabularies and why are they useful? Which vocabularies exist for cataloging art and cultural objects? How should they be integrated in a cataloging system? How should they be used for indexing and for retrieval? How should an institution construct a local authority file? The links in a controlled vocabulary ensure that relationships are defined and maintained for both cataloging and retrieval, clarifying whether a rose window and a Catherine wheel are the same thing or how pot metal glass is related to the more general term stained glass. The book provides organizations and individuals with a practical tool for creating and implementing vocabularies as reference tools, sources of documentation and powerful enhancements for online searching.

Cultural Critique Through the Detour of Art Kris Rutten, Keyan G. Tomaselli, 2025-06-30. This book brings together a selection of articles that have been published throughout a series of special issues of the journal Critical Arts, South North Cultural and Media Studies that originally focused on the so called ethnographic turn in contemporary arts. An increasing wave of art events has occurred since the 1990s that have displayed significant similarities with anthropology and ethnography in their theorizations of cultural difference and representational practices The aim of these works was to revisit the ethnographic turn in contemporary art by bringing together contributions from theorists artists and critics to engage critically with the ethnographic perspective in their work This focus on the ethnographic turn has been expanded in subsequent special issues to explore how culture and society can be critically explored and challenged through the detour of art how contemporary art practices engage with participation interaction and technology in an increasingly digital screen culture and what the role can be of critical art to conceptualize contest and or develop an engaged and critical pedagogy This collection aims to re expose the special issues to an international audience by presenting a non exhaustive selection of articles that exemplify the different perspectives and discussions that are tackled throughout It starts with three of the introductory articles that have attracted large readerships and that give a detailed introduction for the special issues The compilation ends with three so called Vignettes these are short statements and reflections by artists about their practice which are an important feature of the special issues

World Art Ben Burt, 2020-07-12 What do we mean by art As a category of objects the concept belongs to a Western cultural tradition originally European and now increasingly global but how useful is it for understanding other traditions To understand art as a universal human value we need to look at how the concept was constructed in order to reconstruct it through an understanding of the wider world Western art values have a pervasive influence upon non Western cultures and upon Western attitudes to them This innovative yet accessible new text explores the ways theories of art developed as Western knowledge of the world expanded through exploration and trade conquest colonisation and research into other cultures present and past It considers the issues arising from the historical relationships which brought diverse artistic traditions together under the influence of Western art values looking at how art has been used by colonisers and colonised in the causes of collecting and commerce cultural hegemony and autonomous identities World Art questions conventional Western assumptions of art from an anthropological perspective which allows comparison between cultures It treats art as a property of artefacts rather than a category of objects reclaiming the idea of world art from the art world This book is essential reading for all students on anthropology of art courses as well as students of museum studies and art history based on a wide range of case studies and supported by learning features such as annotated further reading and chapter opening summaries
