Securities and Exchange Commission, 2008 AARP Christine L. Day, 2017-10-19 This examination of the history development activities successes and limitations of the largest membership organization in the country will be of interest to anyone who belongs to or is curious about this sometimes controversial group AARP is one of Washington's most influential interest groups but just who does it represent To some it represents the narrow special interests of older Americans who already consume more than their share of government benefits To others its advocacy encompasses everyone including those with elderly parents and grandparents and those who will comprise the older generations of the future The most comprehensive volume ever written about AARP the book begins with a chapter on the organization's history going back to its founding in 1958 and its roots in the National Retired Teachers Association established in 1947 Readers will learn about AARP's membership and chapter activities including how it grew to be the largest membership organization in the country. Perhaps even more engrossing is the book's investigation of the nature and extent of AARP's political influence and its positions and priorities as it struggles to represent a large and diverse constituency. Finally, the study discusses AARP's organizational model which combines political advocacy, business, and charity and probes the controversies arising from what AARP's critics charge are conflicts of interest.

One Nation Under AARP Frederick R. Lynch, 2011-06-20 Lynch provides a fresh and comprehensive look at the potential for politically mobilizing the large Boomer generation. He successfully mixes anecdotes, scholarship, and statistics to present an entertaining and informative analysis of a timely topic. Anyone desiring to effect change in public policy will welcome this book. William H. Frey, The Brookings Institution. Fred Lynch has written a nuanced and marvelously comprehensive examination of the state of the Boomer Nation. This book offers an in-depth look at the economic challenges facing Boomers as well as a colorful account of how AARP has tried to rebrand itself to attract the generation that once celebrated the free spirit and hated the establishment. Neil Howe, co-author of The Graying of the Great Powers. A timely and important study of one of the most powerful lobbying groups in America as it redefines its mission and its message to confront the generational challenges of the twenty-first century. Steve Gillon, author of Boomer Nation and Resident Historian of the History Channel. Fred Lynch's interpretation is an illuminating and much-needed empirical corrective to the confusing and misleading cant that dominates so much of the debate. His scholarship deftly distinguishes between the organization's marketing to an aging society and the diverse realities of that population demographic. Ted Marmor, author of Fads, Fallacies, and Foolishness in Medical Care Management and Policy and The Politics of Medicare.

Business and Financial Practices of the AARP United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Finance. Subcommittee on Social Security and Family Policy, 1995. Ageism and Mistreatment of Older Workers Patricia Brownell, James J. Kelly, 2012-12-11 This book promotes an understanding of ageism, discrimination, and mistreatment of older adult workers incorporating an international human rights perspective. The impact of ageism on the mistreatment of older adult workers has not to date been examined in depth through the lens of international human rights instruments nor has discrimination against older adults in the workplace been framed as a form of elder abuse for research and policy-making purposes. This book presents a multi-disciplinary exploration of these themes as they affect work and retirement of older adults. It reflects the view that older people who choose to work into old age should be able to do so in enabling work environments that promote dignity and are free of abuse. The contributing authors come from many disciplines including law, psychology, social work, business, and international affairs. Many are members of the International Network for the Prevention of Elder Abuse (INPEA), a non-governmental organization with consultative status at the United Nations and have devoted their professional careers to increasing awareness and understanding of elder abuse in order to prevent it. The editors hope that broadening the framework within which elder abuse in the workplace is understood will stimulate further research, policy, and program.
