Kevin A. O'Brien

15 South African Army:

The Monthly Army List Great Britain. Army, 1916 The South African Intelligence Services Kevin A.

O'Brien, 2010-11 This book is the first full history of South African intelligence and provides a detailed examination of the various stages in the evolution of South Africa's intelligence organizations and structures Covering the apartheid period of 1948-90 the transition from apartheid to democracy of 1990-94 and the post apartheid period of new intelligence dispensation from 1994-2005 this book examines not only the apartheid government's intelligence dispensation and operations but also those of the African National Congress and its partner the South African Communist Party ANC SACP as well as those of other liberation movements and the independent homelands under the apartheid system Examining the civilian military and police intelligence structures and operations in all periods as well as the extraordinarily complicated apartheid government's security bureaucracy or securocracy and its structures and units the book discusses how South Africa's Cold War position influenced its relationships with various other world powers especially where intelligence co-operation came to bear It outlines South Africa's regional relationships and concerns the foremost being its activities in South West Africa Namibia and its relationship with Rhodesia through 1980 Finally it examines the various legislative and other governance bases for the existence and operations of South Africa's intelligence structures in all periods and the influences that such activities as the Rivonia Trial at one end of the history or the Truth and Reconciliation Commission at the other end had on the evolution of these intelligence questions throughout South Africa's modern history This book will be of great interest to all students of South African politics intelligence studies and international politics in general Insurgency and Counterinsurgency in South Africa Daniel L. Douek, 2020 Probes the underbelly of early post apartheid South Africa and the destabilization and assassination campaign unleashed as white rule ended South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heineken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security political and social environment since 1994 In South Africa's changed political state how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy This book presents an overview of the security environment how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement force preparation force employment and force sustainability The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy recruitment and retention military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment gender equality and mainstreaming the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged HIV AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness In closing the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation spelling out some lessons learned The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence security and civil military relations of countries around the world Lord Methuen and the British Army Stephen M. Miller, 2012-11-12 This study analyzes the readiness of the British military establishment for war in 1899 and its performance in the South African War 1899-1902. It focuses on the career of Field Marshal Paul Sanford 3rd Baron Methuen whose traditional military training used so effectively in Queen Victoria's small wars was put to the test by the modern challenges of the South African War. A subsidiary aim of this work is to correct and refine the historical consensus that Methuen's campaigning in the South African War was plagued by practical errors and poor judgement. The South African War was a crucial transitional episode in the history of the British army. Unlike Great Britain's other expeditions it required the concentrated resources of the entire empire. It was a modern war in the sense that it employed the technology, the weaponry, the communications and the transportation of the second industrial revolution. AF Press Clips, 1981 AF Press Clips United States Department of State. Bureau of African Affairs, 1980 Reforming Civil-Military Relations in New Democracies Aurel Croissant, David Kuehn, 2017-03-20 This book addresses the challenge of reforming defense and military policy making in newly democratized nations. By tracing the development of civil military relations in various new democracies from a comparative perspective, it links two bodies of scholarship that thus far have remained largely separate: the study of emerging or failed civilian control over armed forces on the one hand and work on the roots and causes of military effectiveness to guarantee the protection and security of citizens on the other. The empirical and theoretical findings presented here will appeal to scholars of civil military relations, democratization and security issues as well as to defense policy makers. Quarterly Army List for the Quarter Ending 31st December, 1919 - Volume 4 HMSO, 2012-02-07 Volume 4 of 4 This volume contains the War Services of 1 Regular Officers on the Active List and on Retired Pay and Officers on the General Reserve; 2 Officers of the Special Reserve of Officers; the Territorial Force and those serving on temporary Commissions who had war service prior to the War of 1914-19 and who were gazetted before 2nd January 1918; Mentions in Despatches and Honours in The War of 1914-20. Also included under separate headings are Queen Alexandra's Imperial Military Nursing Service, Territorial Force Nursing Service, Queen Mary's Army Auxiliary Corps as well as Officers of the Forces of the Oversea Dominions and Colonies. Names are arranged alphabetically. It should be noted that Officers of the Regular Army including those with temporary commissions, Special Reserve and Territorial Force who have retired or have relinquished their Commissions with permission to retain rank but are NOT in receipt of any retired pay from Army funds are NOT included in these lists. Their details are published in a separate supplementary volume. A Program for National Security, May 29, 1947 United States. President's Advisory Commission on Universal Training, 1947
