Young Adults and Active Citizenship Natasha Kersh,Hanna Toiviainen,Pirkko Pitkänen,George K. Zarifis,2021-04-21 This open access book sheds light on a range of complex interdependencies between adult education young adults in vulnerable situations and active citizenship Adult education has been increasingly recognized as a means to engage and re engage young adults and facilitate their life chances and social inclusion thus contributing to an active citizenship within their societal contexts This collection of chapters dealing with issues of social inclusion of young people represents the first book to explicitly approach the complex interdependencies between adult education young adults in vulnerable situations and active citizenship from the European perspective Social exclusion disengagement and disaffection of young adults have been among the most significant concerns faced by EU member states over the last decade It has been increasingly recognised by a range of stakeholders that there is a growing number of young people suffering from the various effects of the unstable social economic and political situations affecting Europe and its neighbouring countries Young adults who experience different degrees of vulnerability are especially at risk of being excluded and marginalised Engaging young adults through adult education has been strongly related to addressing the specific needs and requirements that would facilitate their participation in social economic and civic political life in their country contexts Fostering the active citizenship of young people both directly and indirectly is an area where many AE programmes overlap and this has become a core approach to integration This book considers social economic and political dimensions of active citizenship encompassing the development of social competences and social capital civic and political participation and the skills related to the economy and labour market The cross national consideration of the notions of vulnerability inclusion and active citizenship underpins the complexity of translating these concepts into the national contexts of adult education programmes

Psychosocial Pathways Towards Reinventing the South African University Sabrina Liccardo,2020-11-02 This book proposes a conceptual empirical framework for exploring forms of continuity and change along psychosocial pathways in South African universities It illustrates how the psychosocial pathways are grounded in the symbolic narratives and knowledges of young scientists engineers and architects all interlocutors in the research from which this book is based Alala Mamoratwa Welile Odirile Kaiya Amirah Takalani Nosakhele Naila Ambani Khanyisile Itumeleng Ethwasa and Kgnaya provide collective standpoints in the multiplicities within and between the lived lives and told stories of young Black South African women in Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics STEM fields In doing so this compelling work advances possibilities for demythologising scientific endeavour as a white male achievement and shifting knowledge communities across gendered racialised class and national divides This book presents an innovative narrative methodology utilising the myth of the Minotaur to examine the state of the university at the heart of the hierarchical labyrinth in post apartheid South Africa Throughout the work the author wrestles with and self reflexively highlights her own positionality as a white middle class South African woman to examine how this affects the production of this research in ways which serve to preserve the colonial knowledge system With the rise of the Rhodes Must Fall and Fees Must Fall student movement in South Africa demanding for the fall of institutionalised racial hierarchies the author uses the cover image of narrative formations in the spirit of exploration to think with and through undulating networked forms that could possibly forge new psychosocial pathways towards decolonising and reinventing South African universities This work offers a unique conceptual and methodological resource for students and scholars of psychosocial and narrative theory as well as those who are concerned about the politics of higher education both in South Africa and in other contexts around the world

Reports from Commissioners Great Britain. Parliament. House of Lords,1838 Reconceptualising Power in Language Policy Abhimanyu Sharma,2022-08-12 This book aims to expand the theoretical framework of and counter the Eurocentric narratives in language policy research by comparing policies of EU and India and demonstrating the importance of taking a comparative perspective while studying language policies This book challenges the notion of macro level power in language policy research and offers evidence that in democratic frameworks macro level power is not absolute It is not uniform across policy domains but rather susceptible to pressure especially in the domains of healthcare and social welfare This book makes three important contributions to the theory of language policy by Arguing for the need to reconceptualise macro level power Proposing Categories of Differentiation as a new analytical tool for policy research Demonstrating that socio political changes are reflected at the textual level This book is of interest to researchers working on language policies and those investigating language related legislation across different policy domains to practitioners and policymakers in language policy as well as to graduate students conducting comparative policy research This is a much valued and timely book making a strong case for the subject of language policy across Europe and India The large comparative case studies of four distinctive states across Europe and India in a simple descriptive mode makes the reading of this book enjoyable The domains of administration legislation healthcare and social welfare are undoubtedly novel ways to deal within the concept of language policy in a wider sense The author uses discourse analysis to bring out the relationship between intention explanation and interpretation of a phenomenon like language policy and its implementation The social diversity as expressed in linguistic mapping is well captured in the novel idea of categories of differentiation both as a normative methodological tool and its historical empirical manifestation Asha Sarangi Jawaharlal Nehru University New Delhi

Sports Law in Russia Olga Rymkevich, 2024-01-18 Derived from the renowned multi volume International Encyclopaedia of Laws this practical analysis of sports law in Russia deals with the regulation of sports activity by both public authorities and private sports organizations The growing internationalization of sports inevitably increases the weight of global regulation yet each country maintains its own distinct regime of sports law and its own national and local sports organizations Sports law at a national or organizational level thus gains a growing relevance in comparative law The book describes and discusses both state created rules and autonomous self regulation regarding the variety of economic social commercial cultural and political aspects of sports activities Self regulation manifests itself in the form of by laws and encompasses organizational provisions disciplinary rules and rules of play However the trend towards more professionalism in sports and the growing economic social and cultural relevance of sports have prompted an increasing reliance on legal rules adopted by public authorities This form of regulation appears in a variety of legal areas including criminal law labour law commercial law tax law competition law and tort law and may vary following a particular type or sector of sport It is in this dual and overlapping context that such much publicized aspects as doping sponsoring and media and responsibility for injuries are legally measured This monograph fills a gap in the legal literature by giving academics practitioners sports organizations and policy makers access to sports law at this specific level Lawyers representing parties with interests in Russia will welcome this very useful guide and academics and researchers will appreciate its value in the study of comparative sports law
