Gellman, 2012-02-01 During the Great Depression black intellectuals labor organizers and artists formed the National Negro Congress NNC to demand a second emancipation in America Over the next decade the NNC and its offshoot the Southern Negro Youth Congress sought to coordinate and catalyze local antiracist activism into a national movement to undermine the Jim Crow system of racial and economic exploitation In this pioneering study Erik S Gellman shows how the NNC agitated for the first class citizenship of African Americans and all members of the working class establishing civil rights as necessary for reinvigorating American democracy Much more than just a precursor to the 1960s civil rights movement this activism created the most militant interracial freedom movement since Reconstruction one that sought to empower the American labor movement to make demands on industrialists white supremacists and the state as never before By focusing on the complex alliances between unions civic groups and the Communist Party in five geographic regions Gellman explains how the NNC and its allies developed and implemented creative grassroots strategies to weaken Jim Crow if not deal it the death blow they sought Bailey's index to 'The Times'. D. Roberts, T. M. Roberts, 2013-11-11 Professional planning is commonly defined as an activity which is concerned with the rational allocation or exploitation of resources for man's maximum short and long term benefit The science of ecology is the study of the basic components of these resources soil water air etc and their inter relationships with living organisms Planning and ecology therefore have many common interests and as such have long been associated in resource management This association was for example reflected as early as the 19th century in the writings of Patrick Geddes the progenitor of modern town planning whose training as a biologist led him to re interpret the phenomena of urbanization in ecological terms Geddes 1886 Since the time of Geddes the place of ecology has declined in planning circles as other professions and considerations initially public health and engineering latterly economic and sociological have become more central The reasons for this shifting emphasis are three fold First they reflect changing social attitudes and aspirations in the post war period Secondly many other professions and persuasions agriculturalists foresters industrialists etc became organized as pressure groups and helped shape public attitudes and governmental actions Thirdly and by far the most important reason is the prevalence of misconceptions about ecology Too many people perhaps misled by the debate surrounding the environmental movement equate ecology with conservation In reality conservation is but one component part of ecology British Medical Journal ,1878 Literary Gazette and Journal of Belles Lettres, Arts, Sciences, &c ,1841
