Proceedings of the University of Fort Hare Teaching and Learning Conference (UFHTL 2023) Thabisa Mayisela, Liezel Cilliers, 2024-06-18 This is an open access book Blended Learning as a Blueprint for Higher Education Transformation across the higher education landscape there is talk of consolidating the gains of COVID 19 and the leveraging of advances with blended learning to mitigate challenges and benefit student learning The main purpose of the colloquium is to explore the possibilities complexities and affordances of the Fourth Industrial Revolution 4IR in Higher Education in so far as they relate to teaching and learning This will be achieved through the interrogation of practices and experiences with respect to enablement enhancement and support of programmes and arrangements as well as students and lecturers practices and experiences Lessons To Be Learnt From The World's Great Icons Life Experiences. Bheki S.V. Ntshingila, 2016-11-23

The book is about the late Mr Nelson Mandela the unrepentant crusader and freedom fighter against the obnoxious apartheid regime in South Africa who became an instant toast of the entire world which is a reminder that in each person there is a seed of greatness expected to be discovered and to be used to make this world a better one for all who live in it instead of experiencing hatred and brutality What makes a person to succeed is not how bad she or he thinks but is high optimism thinking big willingness to learn from other's mistakes and life experiences There is a lot we can learn from Madiba's life experience and I don't doubt that the world is also learning something constructive or destructive from you If you are not constructive to others how would you be constructive to yourself Remember greatness is a phenomenon that could be associated with anyone with a positive mind Good better best never let it rest till your good is better and your better is best

Democracy and Education in Namibia and Beyond Amukugo, Elizabeth M., 2017-07-19 The Namibian constitution makes full provision for education as a fundamental human right and freedom Three years into independence as part of the government's educational policy the Education for All Policy was launched as a stepping stone to free quality education However inequities have become widely pronounced within the Namibian educational system Democracy and Education in Namibia and beyond debates the education democracy nexus in Namibia and the southern African context It defines and explores the meaning of democracy and related concepts It also looks at what democracy means in the context of human rights and access to education The ten chapters in this collection interrogate the strengths and limitations of education as an instrument of social change and question whether or not the Namibian educational objectives and practices do develop and help to sustain a democratic culture in Namibia The authors in the collection have drawn material from their own teaching and research experience across the fields of education and social science in Namibia and beyond and present their findings in a pedagogical framework suitable as a challenging text for tertiary students At a time when education is in crisis especially in South Africa where strident calls for free tertiary education and Africanisation of the curriculum are spreading like wildfire this book gives scholarly insight into the history and social conditions that gave rise to our current predicament Anchored in Place Bank, Leslie, Cloete, Nico, 2018-11-05 Tensions in South African universities have traditionally centred around equity particularly access and affordability historical legacies such as apartheid and colonialism and the shape and structure of the higher education system What has not received sufficient attention is the contribution of the university to place based development This volume is the first in South Africa to engage seriously with the place based developmental role of universities In the international literature and policy there has been an increasing integration of the university with place based development especially in cities This volume weighs in on the debate by drawing attention to the place based roles and agency of South African universities in their local towns and cities It acknowledges that universities were given specific development roles in regions homelands and towns under apartheid and comments on why sub national place based development has not been a key theme in post apartheid higher education planning Given the developmental crisis in the country universities could be expected to play a more constructive and meaningful role in the development of their own precincts cities and regions But what should that role be Is there evidence that this is already occurring in South Africa despite the lack of a national policy framework What plans and programmes are in place and what is needed to expand the development agency of universities at the local level Who and what might be involved Where should the focus lie and who might benefit most and why Is there a need perhaps to approach the challenges of college towns secondary cities and metropolitan centers differently This book poses some of these questions as it considers the experiences of a number of South African universities including Wits Pretoria Nelson Mandela University and especially Fort Hare as one of its post centenary challenges

Development Naivety and Emergent Insecurities in a Monopolised World Mawere, Munyaradzi, 2018-09-17 It is common knowledge that development without security is like a runaway horse Yet development in Africa has been plagued by insecurities since the extractive periods of slave trade and colonialism In spite of political independence and the euphoria of sovereignty as states Africa has failed to address insecurity which continues to loom large and to threaten aspirations towards truly inclusive and sustainable development A consequence has been Africa s development naivety vis vis the monopolisation of development by the predatory elite actors of the global North and their local facilitators To salvage the continent from such predation and the insecurities engendered requires novel and innovative imagination and praxis This book draws from both the haunted landscapes and bitter memories of past exploitations and from the feeding of the insatiable North with African resources and humanity It brings together essays by a concerned generation of scholars driven by the urgent need for radical decolonisation of African development and its legacies of insecurities It is handy to students and practitioners in economics policy studies political science development studies global and African studies

Shadow Libraries Joe Karaganis, 2018-05-04 How students get the materials they need as opportunities for higher education expand but funding shrinks From the top down Shadow Libraries explores the institutions that shape the provision of educational materials from the formal sector of universities and publishers to the broadly informal ones organized by faculty copy shops student unions and students themselves It looks at the history of policy battles over access to education in the post World War II era and at the narrower versions that have played out in relation to research and textbooks from library policies to book subsidies to more recently the several open publication models that have emerged in the higher education sector From the bottom up Shadow Libraries explores how simply students get the materials they need It maps the ubiquitous practice of photocopying and what are in many cases the more marginal ones of buying books visiting libraries and downloading from unauthorized sources It looks at the informal networks that emerge in many contexts to share materials from face to face student networks to Facebook groups and at the processes that lead to the consolidation of some of those efforts into more organized archives that circulate offline and sometimes online the shadow libraries of the title If Alexandra Elbakyan s Sci Hub is the largest of these efforts to date the more characteristic part of her story is the prologue the personal struggle to participate in global scientific and educational communities and the recourse to a wide array of ad hoc strategies and networks when formal authorized means are lacking If Elbakyan s story has struck a chord it is in part because it brings this contradiction in the academic project into sharp relief universalist in principle and unequal in practice

Political Science in South Africa Peter Vale, Pieter Fourie, 2016-01-13 In 2013 and in 2014 respectively the South African Association of Political Studies SAAPS and Politikon the South African Journal of Political Studies celebrate their 40th anniversary Also in April 2014 South Africa celebrates twenty years since the advent of the post Apartheid democracy and the birth of the rainbow nation This book provides a timely account of the birth and evolution of South African politics over the past four decades but also of the study of Political Science and International Relations in this country Fourteen political scientists contribute chapters to this volume situating the study of politics within its global context and recounting the development of politics as a field of study at South African universities The fourteen contributions evaluate the state of the discipline s and suggest conclusions that are surprising and in many instances unsettling not only with regards to what and how politics is taught but also how its study has variously gained and lost pertinence for South Africans understanding of their own polity as well as its place in the world The implications are uncomfortable and pose interesting challenges for South African scholarship pedagogy and national self reflection This book was published as a special issue of Politikon
