South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heineken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security political and social environment since 1994. In South Africa's changed political state, how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy? This book presents an overview of the security environment, how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement, force preparation, force employment and force sustainability. The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force, the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy, recruitment and retention of military veterans, looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment, gender equality and mainstreaming the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged. HIV/AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness. In closing, the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation, spelling out some lessons learned. The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence security and civil-military relations of countries around the world.

The South African State Transformed? Louis A. Picard, Thomas M. Mogale, Caitlin C. Corrigan, 2024-09-10 This book examines the nature of the 1994 political transition in South Africa and its impact on post-apartheid South Africa. Specifically, it examines the failures of liberalism within the context of the transitional process that led to the institution, if not the practice, of a non-racial state in 1994. The term liberal is an eclectic term defining a set of views, political and economic. We use the term here within context but essentially define it as a commitment to open views, the willingness to consider change and to value basic human rights. The nature of institutional change in South Africa as it moved towards a democratic state would influence whether South Africa would succeed as a newly industrializing pluralist democratic country or collapse into yet another African failed state. As South Africa moves toward its fourth decade of majority rule, the view towards the future is much less promising than it was in 1994.

South Africa and United Nations Peacekeeping Operations Garcia, Antonio, 2018-08-16 The creation of the Force Intervention Brigade (FIB) as the sharp tactical edge of the United Nations Stabilisation Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (MONUSCO) tasked with the neutralising of armed groups was a watershed moment in the history of modern peace missions. What was more significant was that sub-Saharan national leaders were instrumental in the creation of the FIB. South Africa, Tanzania and Malawi but lacked the resources to deploy such a force and consequently the brigade was deployed under the banner of the UN. With the legacy of an African Renaissance and its role in the conception of the FIB, South Africa remains a critical player in international peace and security in sub-Saharan Africa and therefore holds a key strategic role in achieving the FIB's objectives. This comes at a critical time where blue helmets are increasingly exposed to complex and challenging security contexts. The aim of this work is to provide a conceptual model for South African military future operations and UN offensive peacekeeping operations In this undertaking a layer of military and Clausewitzian theory is added to offensive peacekeeping operations Furthermore there are sections on operational constructs capstone and operating concepts doctrine and structural elements as well a section on mine action This book contributes towards an understanding of the nature of modern strategy through the lens of UN offensive peacekeeping operations and provides insights into operational challenges A History of Palestinian Islamic Jihad Erik Skare,2021-01-28 Using a wealth of primary sources this book traces the history of Palestinian Islamic Jihad PIJ one of the most important yet least understood Palestinian armed factions from its origins in the early 1980s to today exploring its continued presence despite its more powerful sister movement Hamas Annual Report South Africa. Department of Defence,2016 Colonial Memories and Post-Colonial Silences Christina Haritos,2025-11-07 Restitution reparation renaming the colonial past is omnipresent in today s cultural political and academic debates Christina Haritos sheds light on the post colonial power dynamics that shape these discussions by analyzing German and Namibian journalistic coverage of the Herero and Nama genocide with a focus on the German Namibian genocide negotiations between 2015 and 2021 She thus offers a much needed entangled perspective on how journalism evokes colonial memories to maintain or challenge colonial power relations The study shows how journalism navigates colonial gaps in the archive to render certain perspectives in visible and to determine whose past can be used to make claims for a common future Military Review ,2016 The Reconstruction of Post-War Labour Markets in The Southern African Development Community Saint José Inaka,Christopher Changwe Nshimbi,Leon Mwamba Tshimpaka,2023-08-12 This book provides a comprehensive overview of post war labour market reconstructions in the context of a regional bloc whose member states have experienced conflict Focusing on the Southern African Development Community SADC region the book explores how major conflicts often expose shortcomings in affected countries particularly on their post war labour market reconstruction processes The authors discuss how countries in the SADC region in particular are equipped to navigate such processes This key question drives the overview of relationships between labour market issues and wars of liberation from colonial rule and apartheid rights to self determination and racial in equality and the need to succinctly explain how labour market issues shaped civil wars in some post independent SADC member states The book examines the role of the state in reconstruction processes of post war labour markets and the contribution of labour market institutions to these reconstructions It further analyses private sector participation in remaking labour markets and workers experiences in finding employment in labour markets under reconstruction The book provides specific insights from experiences in the Democratic Republic of the Congo DRC Military-Media Relations in Post-Colonial Nigeria Allwell Uwazuruike,2023-12-02 This edited collection reviews the relationship and clashes between the military and the media in post colonial Nigeria The first section addresses the historical context and praxis of the military media relationship in Nigeria The chapters explore the military media modes of operations the prevailing political climate the military interregnums and milestones in Nigeria's media sector ethical and professional consideration for defence correspondence media ownership structures regulatory bodies media laws military media relations and the need for alternative media for military operations The second section deals with interventions impacts and influences of citizen journalists social media influencers online media online stakeholders artificial intelligence and social media platforms in shaping the media space narratives They also explore evolving challenges such as fake news and hate speech The key audience includes regional and international journalists and military organisations researchers academics NGOs governments and others interested in the history and future of military media relations in Africa

Military Heroism in a Post-Heroic Era Uzi Ben-Shalom, René Moelker, Nehemia Stern, Eyal Ben-Ari, 2024-04-11 This book explores the variety of forms that individual heroism and sacrifice can take in the context of contemporary military conflicts It addresses three key questions How has an enduring ideal of heroism been transformed by the nature of modern warfare Are we now witnessing the emergence of new forms of exemplary military behavior And have new ideals of heroism and by association sacrifice or bravery been added to older forms in the recent past The book advocates viewing the concept of military heroism as a moral category in which its theoretical definition and empirical practice reflect those factors that are seen as being vital for society itself The key theoretical and topical challenges addressed in the respective chapters focus on how ideas of heroism become entwined with issues of individualization bolstered by the cultural assumptions of neo Liberalism the spread of the human rights discourse and the judicialization marketization and mediatization of armed forces The book was written by experts on military studies including many who are currently active military personnel It includes contributions from a variety of disciplines e g anthropology sociology psychology and political science
