Metaphysics of Consciousness William Seager, 2002-09-11 Metaphysics of Consciousness opens with a development of the physicalist outlook that denies the need for any explanation of the mental This inexplicability is demonstrated not to be sufficient as refutation of physicalism However the inescapable particularity of modes of consciousness appears to overpower this minimal physicalism This book proposes that such an inference requires either a wholly new conception of how consciousness is physical or a deep and disturbing new kind of physical inexplicability

Ward, 2002-09-30 When did fidgety children begin to suffer from attention deficit disorder How did frightened people come to be called paranoid Why are we considered to have emotional intelligence and not simply caring personalities While psychological knowledge began in the relative isolation of laboratories and universities it has since permeated various professions institutions and everyday life Society and our conceptions of self have fundamentally changed with psychology s modernization of the mind Ward provides a social and cultural history of the spread of psychological knowledge assessing the way this proliferation has reconfigured society s meaning and the way people view themselves and others Using ideas borrowed from science and technology studies the sociology of culture and the sociology of organizations Ward examines how American psychology established itself as the central purveyor of truth about the mind and self in the 20th century He examines how psychology has essentially become common knowledge and his innovative account offers a novel theory about the growth and influence of numerous different knowledge forms Biologism - The Consequence of an Illusion Manfred Velden, 2009-11-18 Biologism describes the idea that the science of biology supplies the means to exhaustively explain psychological processes It has become vastly popular in recent decades Manfred Velden shows that this idea is illusory on fundamental and a priori grounds Several fields of inquiry are described where the biologicistic project has demonstrably failed like for example heritability estimates for mental traits like intelligence It is argued as well that biologism is just a further instance of an older more comprehensive and equally illusory concept psychology as a natural science a science that produces generally accepted basic facts for example the creation of a psychological risk factor for coronary disease It is shown that psychology masquerading as a natural science as it largely does may create serious societal problems like for example its misuse for racist purposes The peculiar use of methodology in psychology is also documented Psychology ,1932
