Transnational Spaces and Identities in the Francophone World Hafid Gafaiti,2009-07-01 The dissolution of the French Empire and the ensuing rush of immigration have led to the formation of diasporas and immigrant cultures that have transformed French society and the immigrants themselves Transnational Spaces and Identities in the Francophone World examines the impact of this postcolonial immigration on identity in France and in the Francophone world which has encompassed parts of Africa the Middle East Southeast Asia and the Americas Immigrants bear cultural traditions within themselves transform host communities and are in turn transformed These migrations necessarily complicate ideals of national literature culture and history forcing a reexamination and a rearticulation of these ideals Exploring a variety of texts informed by these transnational conceptions of identity and space the contributors to this volume reveal the vitality of Francophone studies within a broad range of disciplines periods and settings They remind us that the idea and reality of Francophonie is not a late twentieth century phenomenon but something that grows out of long term interactions between colonizer and colonized and between peoples of different nationalities ethnicities and religions Truly interdisciplinary this collection engages conceptions of identity with respect to their physical geographic ethnic and imagined realities The regional travel guide for El Mghair (Algeria)
