of Covid-19 Discourse Justyna Robinson, Roberta Piazza, Rodney Jones, 2024-10-01 The proposed volume reflects on the Coronavirus pandemic as a still evolving phenomenon and captures critically its socially constructed dimension. The papers by well established international contributors deal with a variety of themes that range from the different discourses of the first and second lockdown, the comparative responses to Covid in different parts of the world in light of the relationship between language and culture and the reflection of who the actors are who talk and are talked about in relation to the pandemic. This last theme in particular offers a wide variety of responses from politicians and health experts, communicates to the voices of marginal individuals and groups like the refugees. The overall questions the papers as a whole try to answer is whether the discourses of and around Covid are equalizing or inciting inequality, whether they perpetuate existing structures of dominance and exclusion and if and how they contributed to language change. The volume offers an opportunity to both discourse analysts and sociolinguists to cross paths and work together. The variety of analytic approaches adopted in both linguistic fields from corpus assisted and computational approaches to survey and interview based studies guarantees a ground breaking interdisciplinary volume with contributions designed to include linguistic analysis at all levels including the plane of grammatical description, lexis, phonology and discourse analysis. Choice, 2001
