Great White Shark

One of the most feared animals in the world is the shark. The shark that people are most afraid of is the great white shark. It gets its name from its white belly. The top of the great white shark is gray, which helps it blend in with the rocky bottom of the ocean.

Although some sharks are bigger, like the whale shark, the great white can grow up to 20 feet long. Unlike the calm, slow whale shark that feeds on tiny fish and plants, the great white is fast and aggressive. A great white's prey includes sea lions, seals, sea turtles, and rays. They use their razor sharp teeth, not to chew, but to rip their prey into small pieces. They have hundreds of teeth that can grow up to three inches long. The great white does not have many predators in the ocean except for orcas and larger sharks.

Humans however, are its biggest threat. Sharks often get caught in fishing nets or humans kill them for their fins or teeth.

1. How do great white sharks hide from predators?
2. Name one way a great white shark is different from a whale shark.
3. How are humans harmful to great white sharks?

The Short Story Anthology and Women's Writing Aleix Tura Vecino, 2025-08-14 Hundreds of anthologies of women's short stories have appeared in the literary market between the 1970s and now. This publishing and cultural phenomenon is considered for the first time in this book which argues that during this period anthologies have become a literary technology used not only to make visible female short story writers but also to think about and mould ideas of womanhood. Through creative and contextualised readings of the most important anthologies produced in this period, this study shows that this literary form has contributed to and in some cases pioneered key developments in gender theory and feminist thought including questions of political combination among women which underlie contemporary global movements such as MeToo. In doing so, the book also develops the first book-length conceptualisation of the features and meaning-making mechanisms of the short story anthology as a literary form. This book will benefit academics and students working in the fields of short fiction publishing and women's studies as well as feminist scholars and a growing number of specialists interested in the anthology as a literary form worldwide.

Modernism, Postmodernism, and the Short Story in English, 2012-01-01 How can the short story help to redefine modernism, postmodernism and their interrelationship? What is the status of the short story in modern literary history? These are the central questions that the essays collected in this volume try to answer from different perspectives through readings of short fiction in English and accounts of the genre's theorisations. The essays by a group of international scholars tackle theoretical issues that are central in approaches to both movements such as periodisation, autonomy, high vs popular literature, totality vs fragmentation, surface vs depth, otherness, representation and above all, the subject and its vicissitudes. Because it blends theory-based arguments into the approaches to the short fiction of mainly canonical authors (Joyce, Woolf, Lewis, Ballard, Carter, Rushdie or Wallace), Modernism, Postmodernism and the Short Story in English is of interest not only to readers and scholars of the short story but also to those coming from the fields of literary theory and literary history.

Digital Humanities in Medieval and Early Modern Spanish Texts Roberto J. González Zalacain, Gael Vaamonde, 2025-03-31 This volume fills a gap in the literature on digital humanities (DH) in the Hispanic context by gathering a heterogeneous group of specialists who from different standpoints in the humanities explore Spanish texts as the object of study, DH as the work methodology and Medieval and Early Modern Times as the historical framework. The volume gathers authors from Spain and other countries who work at the intersections of the DH and the areas of history, philology, literature or linguistics to explore some of the diverse DH projects working on Spanish texts from this period and their wider implications. Taking historical sources as the starting point contributions to this volume include topics such as historical corpus design TEI based digital edition 3D modelling database architecture or automatic text annotation For readers interested in the subject the book provides a stimulating discussion with in depth and concrete analyses of the interrelationships between the different contributions This volume will be of great interest to medievalists and early modern researchers whether involved in linguistic historical or literary studies demonstrating the advantages of considering digital tools and computational methods in their academic work In addition it will also appeal to postgraduate students in the field of DH The Passage of Air and Faeces from the Urethra William Harrison Cripps,1888 Translators' Formative Agency in the Periodical Hawar

(1932-1943) Dibar Çelik,2025-03-20 The present work uncovers the pivotal role translations in the periodical Hawar played in the formation of a Kurdish cultural identity In this light it foregrounds translators agency and their contributions in novel contexts and thus fills a crucial gap in this area This work provides new insights into identity formation focusing on translations in a key magazine published in a minoritized language in the 1930s and 1940s In this context it particularly underscores the agency of Celadet Al Bedirxan as the leading translator and writer as well as the founder and chief editor of the magazine His vision of Kurdish cultural identity in Hawar had a multilayered characteristic It was oriented toward a dialogic relationship between Kurdish and western cultures It proposed the Roman script for Kurdish language dialects and introduced a simple prose style It also embraced a plural Kurdish religious aspect and led the way to the development of modern Kurdish literature ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE Ultimate Collection: 23 Novels & 200+ Short Stories,
