

Lab 5 Star Spectra

Vocabulary: absorption spectrum, binary star, blueshift, Cepheid variable, emission spectrum, giant star, nebula, redshift, spectrum, star

Prior Knowledge Questions (Do these BEFORE using the Gizmo.)

1. What happens when light goes through a prism? It is bent, or refracted, by the angles and plane faces of the prism and each wavelength of light is refracted by a slightly different amount.

This band of colors is called a spectrum.

2. A rainbow is an example of a spectrum. What is the sequence of colors in a rainbow?

Red, orange, yellow, blue, indigo, violet

Gizmo Warm-up

The interior of a star produces a continuous spectrum of light, like a rainbow. Cooler gases in the outer layers of the star absorb certain wavelengths of light, causing dark lines to appear in the spectrum. The resulting absorption spectrum can tell astronomers a great deal about the star.

1. On the Star Spectra Gizmo, turn on Show labels. Select star 1 to see its absorption spectrum.

How many lines do you see in the spectrum? five

2. Drag the Hydrogen spectrum next to the Star spectrum so that the edges line up. Do some of the lines on the two spectra match up? Yes four lines on the spectrum do line up
3. Drag the Helium spectrum next to the Star spectrum. Do some lines match? Yes some do match
4. Try out the other available spectra. Do any others have lines that match? No
5. Which elements have contributed to the spectrum of star 1? Hydrogen and helium

Note: The elements in a star's spectrum do not necessarily reflect what the star is made of. The absorption spectrum is mostly determined by the surface temperature of the star.

Highlights of Astronomy: Volume 14 Karel van der Hucht, 2008-01-21 Recording the proceedings of the IAU XXVI General Assembly this volume of the IAU Highlights of Astronomy covers virtually all aspects of modern astrophysics as discussed by 2400 participants from 73 countries. Notably the common aspects of astrophysical phenomena known to exist in widely differing interstellar environments is thoroughly examined providing fertile cross correlation from one specialisation to another. This text highlights the importance of the triennial IAU General Assemblies in bringing together the work of observers and theoreticians in widely different fields but working towards a common goal understanding the physics of the Universe. Together with the Proceedings of the IAU Symposia 235-240 this volume examines all of the astrophysics presented at the General Assembly.

Remote Instrumentation and Virtual Laboratories Franco Davoli, Norbert Meyer, Roberto Pugliese, Sandro Zappatore, 2010-03-10 Accessing remote instrumentation worldwide is one of the goals of e Science. The task of enabling the execution of complex experiments that involve the use of distributed scientific instruments must be supported by a number of different architectural domains which inter work in a coordinated fashion to provide the necessary functionality. These domains embrace the physical instruments, the communication network interconnecting the distributed systems, the service oriented abstractions and their middleware. The Grid paradigm or more generally the Service Oriented Architecture (SOA) viewed as a tool for the integration of distributed resources plays a significant role not only to manage computational aspects but increasingly as an aggregator of measurement instrumentation and pervasive large scale data acquisition platforms. In this context the functionality of a SOA allows managing, maintaining and exploiting heterogeneous instrumentation and acquisition devices in a unified way by providing standardized interfaces and common working environments to their users but the peculiar aspects of dealing with real instruments of widely different categories may add new functional requirements to this scenario. On the other hand the growing transport capacity of core and access networks allows data transfer at unprecedented speed but new challenges arise from wireless access, wireless sensor networks and the traversal of heterogeneous network domains. The book focuses on all aspects related to the effective exploitation of remote instrumentation and to the building of complex virtual laboratories on top of real devices and infrastructures. These include SOA and related middleware, high speed networking in support of Grid applications, wireless Grids for acquisition devices and sensor networks, Quality of Service (QoS) provisioning for real time control, measurement instrumentation and methodology as well as metrology issues in distributed systems.
