Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen, 2023-02 Through investigatory reports and interviews Jonathan Jansen reveals the structural conditions for chronic dysfunction in a sample of South African universities He reveals the political economy at work and the intense competition for resources on campuses He also provides interventions for these fragile institutions Why do some universities seem to be in a constant state of turmoil and dysfunction Jonathan Jansen explores the root causes of chronic instability in a sample of South African universities Through scrutiny of investigatory reports and interviews with more than 100 university managers and government officials Jansen finds that at the heart of the dysfunction in universities is an intense and sometimes deadly competition for resources especially on campuses located in impoverished communities It is not the lack of institutional resources but their concentration in a university that draws a mix of corrupt actors from local politicians and taxi operators to members of council and management into a never ending run on the material such as money for infrastructure and symbolic namely graduation certificates for sale assets of these institutions Jansen argues that the problem won't be solved through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities. Jansen makes an important intervention to understanding the root causes and offers interventions to produce stabilities such as the depoliticisation of university councils and appointing academics of integrity and capacity in the management and leadership of these fragile institutions. This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly.

Ageing with Smartphones in Uganda Charlotte Hawkins, 2023-09-28

Ageing with Smartphones in Uganda is based on a 16 month ethnography about experiences of ageing in a neighbourhood in central Kampala, Uganda. It examines the impact of smartphones and mobile phones on older people's health and everyday lives as part of the global ASSA project. Taking a convivial approach which celebrates multiple ways of knowing about social life, Charlotte Hawkins draws from these expressions about cooperative morality and modernity to consider the everyday mitigation of profound social change. Dotcom is understood to encompass everything from the influence of ICTs to urban migration and lifestyles in the city to shifts in ways of knowing and relating. At the same time, dotcom tools such as mobile phones and smartphones facilitate elder care through, for example, regular mobile money remittances. This book explores how dotcom relates to older people's health, their care norms, their social standing, their values of respect and relatedness and their intergenerational relationships, both political and personal. It also re-frames the youth-centricity of research on the city and work, new media and technology politics and service provision in Uganda. Through ethnographic consideration of everyday life and self-formation in this context, the monograph seeks to contribute to an ever-incomplete understanding of how we relate to each other and to the world around us.

Sharing Knowledge, Transforming Societies Halvorsen, Tor, Orgeret, Kristin Skare, 2019-10-22

In June 2016 the Norwegian Programme for Capacity Development in Higher Education and Research for Development (Norhed) hosted a conference on the theme of knowledge for development in an attempt to shift the focus of the programme towards its academic content. This book follows up on that event. The conference highlighted the usefulness of presenting the value of Norhed's different projects to the world, showing how they improve knowledge and expand access to it through co-operation. A wish for more meta-knowledge was also expressed and this gives rise to the following questions: Is this way of operating contributing to the growth of independent post-colonial knowledge production in the South based on analyses of local data and experiences in ways that are relevant to our shared future Does the growth of academic independence as well as greater equality and the ability to develop theories different to those imposed by the better off parts of the world give rise to deeper understandings and better explanations Does it at least spread the ability to translate existing methodologies in ways that add meaning to observations of local context and data and thus enhance the relevance and influence of the academic profession locally and internationally This book in its varied contributions does not provide definite answers to these questions but it does show that Norhed is a step in the right direction Norhed is an attempt to fund collaboration within and between higher education institutions We know that both the uniqueness of this programme and ideas of how to better utilise the learning and experience emerging from it call for more elaboration and broader dissemination before we can offer further guidance on how to do things better This book is a first attempt Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Finance Bahaaeddin A. M. Alareeni,Islam Elgedawy,2023-08-26 Artificial intelligence AI has the potential to significantly improve efficiency reduce costs and increase the speed and accuracy of financial decision making making it an increasingly important tool for financial professionals One way that AI can improve efficiency in finance is by automating tasks and processes that are time consuming and repetitive for humans For example AI algorithms can be used to analyze and process large amounts of data such as financial statements and market data in a fraction of the time that it would take a human to do so This can allow financial professionals to focus on higher value tasks such as interpreting data and making strategic decisions rather than being bogged down by mundane tasks AI can also reduce costs in finance by increasing automation and eliminating the need for certain tasks to be performed manually This can result in cost savings for financial institutions which can then be passed on to customers in the form of lower fees or better services AI can be used to identify unusual patterns of activity that may indicate fraudulent behavior This can help financial institutions reduce losses from fraud and improve customer security AI powered chatbots and virtual assistants can help financial institutions provide faster more efficient customer service particularly when it comes to answering common questions and handling routine tasks Some financial institutions are using AI to analyze market data and make trades in real time AI powered trading algorithms can potentially make faster and more accurate trading decisions than humans In terms of speed and accuracy AI algorithms can analyze data and make decisions much faster than humans and can do so with a high degree of accuracy This can be particularly useful in fast moving financial markets where quick and accurate decision making can be the difference between success and failure This book highlights how AI in finance can improve efficiency reduce costs and increase the speed and accuracy of financial decision making Moreover the book also focuses on how to ensure the responsible and ethical use of AI in finance This book is a valuable resource for students scholars academicians researchers professionals executives government agencies and policymakers interested in exploring the role of artificial intelligence AI in finance Its goal is to provide a comprehensive overview of the latest research and knowledge in this area and to stimulate further inquiry and exploration

Postgraduate Research Engagement in Low Resource Settings Atibuni, Dennis Zami, 2019-09-27 The general academic progression and particularly research engagement of postgraduate students is characterized by various problems such as high dropout rates longer completion times low graduation rates and high repetition or retake rates This means that there are far fewer students pursuing postgraduate studies at tertiary institutions and universities than there are at the lower levels of education Yet there is growing demand for postgraduate education given its strong projected association with socioeconomic transformation at national and international levels among developed and developing countries alike Postgraduate Research Engagement in Low Resource Settings sets out to garner strategies for fostering efficiency of research conduct among the students and faculty so as to enhance high quality output for the envisaged personal societal national and international socioeconomic transformation Covering a range of topics such as intellectual property mental health and quality assurance this book is ideal for research supervisors higher education faculty librarians educators administrators researchers academicians and students

For God and My Country J. J. Carney, 2020-10-27 A devout Catholic politician assassinated by a capricious dictator A Cardinal standing up for his people in the face of political repression A priest leading his nation's constitutional revision The Mother Teresa of Uganda transforming the lives of thousands of abandoned children Two missionaries who founded the best community radio station in Africa A peace activist who has amplified the voices of grassroots women in the midst of a brutal civil war Such are the powerful stories in For God and My Country a book that explores how seven inspiring leaders in Uganda's largest religious community have shaped the social and political life of their country Drawing on extensive oral research J J Carney analyzes how personal faith theological vision and Catholic social teaching have propelled these leaders to embody Vatican II's call for the Church to be a sign of communion and unity in the world. Readers will gain rich insight into Uganda's postcolonial politics and the history of one of Africa's most important Catholic communities. Each chapter closes with leadership lessons and reflection questions making this an ideal text for classroom and parish adoption. Collier's Encyclopedia, 1957

Emerging Development of Agriculture in East Africa Takashi Yamano, Keijiro Otsuka, Frank Place, 2011-04-28

Emerging Development of Agriculture in East Africa offers case studies that find promise in many new innovations. Farmers in Uganda have quickly learned the management of NERICA rice, a new upland rice variety which is being disseminated in a limited way in the region. Also in Uganda, farmers living in more remote areas have improved access to markets due to the expansion of mobile phones. In Kenya, improved milk marketing systems have increased efficiency and led to tangible increases in the adoption of dairy production technologies. And the adoption of intensive dairy production systems in Kenya and Uganda are providing significant amounts of manure and positively impacting yields of maize and banana.
