2015 Univesity Of Pretoria Prospectus:

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience Доклад Юнеско По Науке - 2015 - На пути к 2030 году UNESCO Publishing, ITMO University, 2017-03-06

Hidden Pretoria Johan Swart, 2019-10-01 Despite being South Africa's capital city Pretoria has often played a supporting role to bold and brash Johannesburg and Cape Town's cosmopolitan charms However when it comes to architectural heritage the Jacaranda City is well endowed From the skyline dominating Union Buildings and Voortrekker Monument to the imposing edifices of its administrative precincts Pretoria might be deserving of a second moniker the city of sandstone brick and granite But when you look beyond the impressive facades soaring columns and linear planes of buildings that were intended to convey power and authority you'll find light filled interiors embellished with decorative touches that are only hinted at from the outside Murals mosaics domes galleries stained glass windows gleaming brass and impressive woodwork are often hidden from view behind doors that are closed to the public And even those museums buildings and places of worship that are open to all have noteworthy architectural and design features that are easily overlooked The history of the city and of the country has been played out in many of the buildings featured in Hidden Pretoria This book captures facets of our diverse heritage historic and contemporary so that a new generation might recognise the need to embrace the past in order to build our common future Higher Education - Reflections From the Field - Volume 1, 2023-11-02

COVID wrought havoc on the world's economic systems Higher education did not escape the ravages brought on by the pandemic as institutions of higher education around the world faced major upheavals in their educational delivery systems Some institutions were prepared for the required transition to online learning Most were not Whether prepared or not educators rose to the challenge The innovativeness of educators met the challenges as digital learning replaced the face to face environment In fact some of the distance models proved so engaging that many students no longer desire a return to the face to face model As with all transitions some things were lost while others were gained This book examines practice in the field as institutions struggled to face the worst global pandemic in the last century The book is organized into four sections on The Perspectives of Higher Education COVID as a Catalyst for Change Embracing

Online Learning as a Response to COVID and Post Covid The Way Forward It presents various perspectives from educators around the world to illustrate the struggles and triumphs of those facing new challenges and implementing new ideas to empower the educational process These discussions shed light on the impact of the pandemic and the future of higher education post COVID Higher education has been forever changed and higher education as it once was may never return While many questions arise the achievements in meeting and overcoming the pandemic illustrate the creativity and innovativeness of educators around the world who inspired future generations of learners to reach new heights of accomplishment even in the face of the pandemic

From Student to Urban Planner Tuna Taşan-Kok, Mark Oranje, 2017-12-06 For many young planners the noble intentions with going to planning school seem starkly out of place in the neoliberal worlds they have come to inhabit For some the huge gap between the power they thought they would have and what they actually do is not only worrying but also deeply discouraging But for some others practice means finding practical and creative solutions to overcome challenges and complexities How do young planners in different settings respond to seemingly similar situations like these What do they do give up adjust or fight back What role did their planning education play and could it have helped in preparing and assisting them to respond to the world they are encountering In this edited volume stories of young planners from sixteen countries that engage these questions are presented The sixteen cases range from settings with older established planning systems e g USA the Netherlands and the UK to settings where the system is less set e g Brazil being remodeled e g South Africa and Bosnia Herzegovina and under stress e g Turkey and Poland Each chapter explores what might be done differently to prepare young planners for the complexities and challenges of their real worlds This book not only points out what is absent but also offers planning educators an alternative vision The editors and esteemed contributors provide reflections and suggestions as to how this new generation of young planners can be supported to survive in embrace and change the world they are encountering and in the spirit of planning endeavor to change it for the better

Recalibrating teacher training in African higher education institutions Sifiso Sibanda, Gideon (Deon) P. van Tonder, Washington T. Dudu, 2023-03-01 This book critically examines the role of governments in promoting parity during and in post pandemic education This comes from the realisation that the pandemic has deepened the crisis by depleting the meagre resources that African countries might have devoted to normative educational practices where those on the margins would have been pushed further behind while the privileged would have been further initiated into the cultural and capital flows of private schools and historically research intensive institutions of higher learning This has far reaching implications for the education of underprivileged citizens and education particularly modes and modalities of delivery has to be reimaged to subvert the challenges wrought by the pandemic This book significantly bridges the gap between the pre and post COVID 19 pandemic pedagogical practices and the erstwhile modalities that have been resilient over time The book focuses on ways to stave off pedagogical challenges that face countries as the global pandemic makes its mark

Decolonising Media and Communication Studies Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Selina Linda Mudavanhu, Shepherd Mpofu, Kezia Batisai, 2023-10-27 The book provides insights on decolonising media and communication studies education from diverse African scholars at different stages of their careers These academics located on the continent and in the diaspora share an interest in decolonising higher education broadly and media and communication studies teaching and learning in particular Although many African countries gained flag independence from different European colonial powers between the 1950s and the 1970s this book argues that former colonies remain ensnared in a colonial power matrix Many African universities did not jettison ways of teaching and learning established during colonialism and even those journalism communication and media studies training programmes which were established after the attainment of flag independence did not place decolonial agendas at the front and centre when setting them up Starting with big picture thematic questions around decolonisation the book goes on to consider what the implications of change would be for students and instructors before reflecting on how far it is possible to decolonise curricula and syllabi and what this might look like in practice across a range of subject areas and country contexts Overall this book presents a nuanced picture of what a decolonised media and communication studies education could look like in sub Saharan Africa This book is essential for researchers in Africa in disciplines such as media and communication studies journalism film studies cultural studies and higher education studies More broadly the concepts and ideas on decolonising teaching and learning discussed in the book are relevant to instructors in any discipline who are interested in doing the decolonial work of contesting coloniality
