Answers For Past Exam Papers For Unisa:

Responsible Research Practice Norma RA Romm, 2018-04-21 This book explores ways in which creative research practice can be explicitly and mindfully geared to make a difference to the quality of social and ecological existence. It offers a range of examples of how different research methods can be employed and re-tuned with this intention. The book suggests that what Romm names active research involves using the research space responsibly to open up new avenues for thinking and acting on the part of those involved in the inquiry and wider stakeholders. The book includes a discussion of a range of epistemological, ontological, methodological and axiological positions or paradigms that can be embraced by inquirers implicitly or explicitly. It details the contours of an epistemology where knowing is recognized to be grounded in social relations as a matter of ethics. While focusing on discussing the transformative paradigm and attendant view of research ethics, it considers to what extent the borders between paradigms can be treated as being permeable in creative and active inquiries. Apart from considering options for enhancing responsible research practice during the process of inquiry and reconsidering mixed research designs, the book also considers options for responsible theorizing that is inspirational for pursuing goals of social and ecological justice.

Pain Medicine and Management Mark S. Wallace, Peter Staats, 2004-03-05 A quick reference to the management of pain for specialists as well as general medical practitioners and residents. Written in a concise bulleted format, the content is limited to only the essential facts necessary for assessment and treatment of common pain conditions and presentations. A perfect review tool for both the anesthesia and pain medicine board exams.

Accountability in Social Research Norma Romm, 2007-05-08 In this book I have concentrated on drawing attention to various conceptions of accountability that might be brought to bear in judging the practice of social research. Much of the book is organized around making explicit the assumptions that influence what counts as proper research in society, including assumptions about how social inquirers might be held accountable. My focus is on reviewing discourses around the practice of professional inquiry with a view to reconsidering the way in which people create expectations for accountable social inquiry. My focus hereon is related to my concern that the manner in which judgments about researchers' accountability are made is not without social consequences for our way of living in society. I have approached the issues by beginning with a discussion of tenets of the position called positivism, so named by certain proponents, and by considering the view on accountability that is implied by adherence to these tenets. Briefly expressed, positivist argumentation suggests that researchers are required to do science in a manner that warrants their being considered indeed scientists. I use my discussion of accountability as seen within positivist argumentation to explicate ways in which alternative positions have arisen as ways of treating accountability issues. Through my way of comparing the various positions, I hope to provide some indication of the complexity of ethical and accountability issues in social inquiry.

English Studies University of South Africa. Department of English, 1992 Daniel - a South African Chronicle Daniel van der Merwe, 2015-02-17 Despite being written mainly in the third person this book enables the perceptive reader to study a dramatic part of South Africa's history through the experiences of the main protagonist Because of his legal background Daniel is able to see how an initially fair legal system is corrupted in order to serve the increasingly desperate needs of the White minority This is a mere backdrop however to a love story that grows closer to tragedy as time passes because the heroine is an alcoholic The arrival of the computer alters the career of the hero dramatically and sends him on some overseas adventures to learn more about the legal implications of the new machine As a leader of a missionary team to Malawi Daniel also gets to grips with people with a totally different background and a differing worldview The book is sensitive to background and atmosphere and the hero encapsulates some of this in a few poems that form part of the main text Jealousy that green eyed monster also rears its head occasionally and further complicates relationships Adapting Health Communication to Cultural Needs Piet Swanepoel, Hans Hoeken, 2008 The question of what constitutes effective health communication has been addressed mainly by scholars working in American and European cultural contexts Many people who could benefit most from effective health communication however come from different cultures A prime example is the threat posed by HIV AIDS to the people of South Africa Although it is generally acknowledged that health communication needs to be tailored to the target audience's characteristics with cultural background being one of the most salient ones little research has been done on how to achieve this In this book we bring together leading scholars in the field of health communication as well as communication scholars from South Africa As such it can serve as an example of the promises and the limitations of general health communication theories to local praxis as well as provide guidelines for the development of better health communication in South Africa ECOOP '98 - Object-Oriented Programming Eric Jul, 1998-07-08 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 12th European Conference on Object Oriented Programming ECOOP 98 held in Brussels Belgium in July 1998 The book presents 24 revised full technical papers selected for inclusion from a total of 124 submissions also presented are two invited papers The papers are organized in topical sections on modelling ideas and experiences design patterns and frameworks language problems and solutions distributed memory systems reuse adaption and hardware support reflection extensible objects and types and mixins inheritance and type analysis complexity Intelligent Computing Kohei Arai, 2021-07-05 This book is a comprehensive collection of chapters focusing on the core areas of computing and their further applications in the real world Each chapter is a paper presented at the Computing Conference 2021 held on 15-16 July 2021 Computing 2021 attracted a total of 638 submissions which underwent a double blind peer review process Of those 638 submissions 235 submissions have been selected to be included in this book The goal of this conference is to give a platform to researchers with fundamental contributions and to be a premier venue for academic and industry practitioners to share new ideas and development experiences We hope that readers find this volume interesting and valuable as it provides the state of the art intelligent methods and techniques for solving real world problems We also expect that the conference and its publications is a trigger for further related research and technology improvements in this important subject
