effectiveness or efficacy of various interventions in neurological disorders Neuroepidemiological researches have been conducted since 1960 s with the development of epidemiological methodology and advance of the clinical neurology Most improvement of neuroepidemiology was in western countries largely in US and European countries This study field has been developed quite late in resourcelimited areas where 60% of world s populations are living in Disease burden of neurological disorders such as stroke epilepsy migraine neurodegenerated diseases AD PD multiple sclerosis MS amyotrophic lateral sclerosis ALS are extremely heavy in low and middle income countries LAMICs especially with the increasing aging population in these regions Because of their progressive and disabling nature these neurological disorders have major adverse personal social and economic consequences Prevention and early detection are critical because there are no cures and the clinical diagnosis typically occurs after substantial and often irreversible neuronal loss

Kaloeti,2023-08-15 COVID 19 has resulted in drastic socio political and economical changes on a global scale On an individual level the pandemic has significantly changed the lifestyle and personal values of millions of people It can be argued that COVID 19 was a result of humans living in an anthropocentric way in which humans are at the top of the hierarchy The impact and spread of COVID 19 have forced us to face our affective relationship with the environment from a Biocentric perspective rather than an anthropocentric perspective The Biocentric perspective encourages us to reflect on the meaning of values of our social integration and emphasizes the importance of a sustainable affective interaction with nature To improve human capacity of coping with crises like COVID 19 in the future it would be important that we develop biocentric education and reinforce lifestyles that promote sustainability
