John Foster

Alliteration Advertising Slogans Lists:

Let's Write John Foster, 2014-01-21 Let's Write offers a wealth of suggestions for approaches to developing primary school pupils writing skills that will capture the children's interest while enabling them to improve their ability to express themselves in writing. It aims to meet the requirements of the new national curriculum for English at KS2 in a way that will develop the children's standard of writing by presenting activities that they will find enjoyable and stimulating. Throughout the book the emphasis is on providing activities that will engage the pupils in a discussion of how texts are structured before producing their own writing. John Foster suggests a range of imaginative tasks that both literacy specialists and non-specialists will find useful in developing children's ability to write coherently and correctly. Let's Write includes a clear explanation of the writing process with activities designed to improve pupils' drafting skills, examples of the different types of writing for pupils to analyse which they can use as models for their own writing, a range of imaginative ideas for writing tasks together with suggestions of curriculum opportunities for practising particular forms, writing challenges which can be used to stretch more able writers and thus to introduce differentiation by task as well as by outcome, writing tips for example on sentence structure and paragraph structure appropriate to the different types of writing activities involving pupils in the assessment of their writing, a section on writing correctly focussing on grammar, spelling and punctuation, a section containing games and activities designed to extend pupils' vocabulary. Let's Write provides teachers with a lively collection of resources that will be welcomed by teachers and that will help to develop children's writing. Targeting Media

Annemarie Lopez, 2000 The Targeting Media series breaks down each media form into its components and provides sample texts, information on the structure and feature of each text type and structured teaching units. Each text type is given comprehensive coverage with a clear descriptive overview followed by interesting lessons for students in middle high school. P 4 How to Publish in Biomedicine Jane Fraser, 2008 Getting published is crucial for success in biomedicine. Whether you are a beginner or an experienced writer, you will find this book has fresh practical tips on everyday issues. Based on the author's renowned courses at the University of Oxford, this book answers the questions writers actually ask in a clear, concise and easy-to-read style. This bestselling guide is highly recommended for all professionals and students in biomedical disciplines including doctors, PhD and post-doctorate students, lecturers and researchers in medicine, physiology, biochemistry, molecular biology and pharmacology. Better English Max John Herzberg, 1952 Making Sense of Messages Mark Stoner, Sally J. Perkins, 2015-10-16 Using a developmental approach to the process of criticism, Making Sense of Messages serves as an introduction to rhetorical criticism for communication majors. The text employs models of criticism to offer pointed and reflective commentary on the thinking process used to apply theory to a message. This developmental apprenticeship approach helps students understand the thinking process behind critical analysis and aids in critical writing.
