THE RESPIRATORY SYSTEM

Body cells require an abundant and continuous supply of oxygen to carry out their activities. As cells use oxygen, they release carbon dioxide, a waste product that must be eliminated from the body. The circulatory and respiratory systems are intimately involved in obtaining and delivering oxygen to body cells and in eliminating carbon dioxide from the body. The respiratory system is responsible for gas exchange between the pulmonary blood and the external environment (that is, external respiration). The respiratory system also plays an important role in maintaining the acid-base balance of the blood.

Questions and activities in this chapter consider both the anatomy and physiology of the respiratory system structures.
