Governance and Planning of Mega-City Regions Jiang Xu, Anthony Yeh, 2010-09-13 Provides a comparative treatment and examination of how new approaches in governance and planning are reshaping mega-city regions around the world. The contributors highlight how European mega-city regions are evolving and strategic intervention redefined to enable the integration of urban qualities in a multi-level governance environment. How traditional federal countries in North America and Australia see the promise of major policies and development initiatives finally moving ahead to herald a more strategic intervention at national and regional scales and how transitional economies in China witness the rise of state strategies to control the articulation of scales and to reassert the functional importance of state in a growing diffused power context.

Asian/American Curricular Epistemicide Nicholas D. Hartlep, Daniel P. Scott, 2016-08-18 In this important book, Nicholas Hartlep and Daniel Scott's detailed analyses on both visual and historical representations of Asian Americans in textbooks and teacher manuals used in our elementary and secondary schools poignantly tell us that generations of children are growing up being fed this single story about Asian Americans. As Hartlep and Scott write, Asian Americans have once again been constructed as the good minority that can succeed on their own and be used as a political instrument to shame the Blacks for their underachievement and their fight for equality. Over and over again, the media has been telling a single story about Asian Americans to the public for the past fifty years. The consequence of this fabricated story is that it discourages others, even Asian Americans themselves, from believing in the validity of their struggles.

A New Pathway to World Peace Ted Becker, Brian Polkinghorn, 2017-09-25 Horrific changes are descending upon humanity, most of them man-made, all of them threatening the survival of humankind on Mother Earth. Forever wars, the threat of nuclear destruction, the ecology collapsing, worldwide swelling waves of migrants, and unprecedented global inequality of wealth are upon us. The dominant modern worldview prevailing for many centuries has produced all the above and needs swift and radical change. Central to this unfolding tragedy stands the United States, boasting its exceptionalism. Alexis de Tocqueville's Democracy in America coined and defined how America was an exceptional nation. However, the America he lauded in the early 1800s and what it has become today are as different as Antarctica and Hawaii. This book is designed to pry open the eyes and minds of people everywhere about the true nature of the US as a spiritual and political but not militaristic nation, one to emulate and with whom to collaborate on helping resolve the violence and myopia plaguing humankind right now. It illuminates a new way to reshape American thinking and that of the whole world sensibly and with sensitivity to all humanity and the planet itself. But you must read to the last word to absorb the entire vision.

Complementary & Alternative Therapies in Nursing Mariah Snyder, Ruth Lindquist, 2010. Named a 2013 Doody's Core Title. Consistently offers easily accessible and timely information on how complementary therapies influence the health, comfort, and well-being of patients in a variety of clinical settings. It is an influential resource for nurses in practice, education, and research. Janice Post White, PhD, RN, FAAN. Now in its sixth edition, this highly acclaimed book continues to provide nurses with cutting-edge research and practice guidelines for complementary and alternative therapy. Enriched with new chapters, contributors, live web resources, with the authors' own updated information, and a new emphasis on evidence-based practice, this highly anticipated edition demonstrates how nurses can serve as an active healing presence for their patients. Also new to this edition is the authors' emphasis on cultural awareness. To this end, the authors incorporate new, engaging cultural applications in every chapter. Cutting-edge therapies discussed include Energy and biofield healing, touch, light therapy, and reflexology. Mind-body yoga, meditation, and storytelling. Manual massage, exercise, and Tai Chi. Biological-based aromatherapy and herbal therapies. As the consumer demand for complementary therapies continues to increase, it is critical that nurses have thorough knowledge of complementary therapies in order to stay informed about research and practice guidelines, alert patients to possible contraindications with Western biomedicine, and even incorporate some of these therapies in their own self-care.

Whitewashing War Christopher Leahey, 2015-04-24. Whitewashing War explores perhaps the most critical issue social studies educators presently face: How do we teach our students about war? In this timely book, Christopher Leahey investigates how the political struggles over the social studies curriculum, the corporate domination of the textbook and testing industry, and the curricular constraints of the No Child Left Behind Act combine to stifle historical inquiry and deprive students of meaningful social studies instruction. Using the controversial Vietnam War as a case study, Leahey holds textbook narratives up to the light, illuminating how the adoption process, interpretive framework, and selection of evidence combine to transform the past into thinly veiled historical myths. By attending to questions traditionally ignored in history education, this dynamic book
