

American Anthropological Association (AAA) Quick Style Guide

Wells College Long Library
www.wells.edu/library

American Anthropology Association (AAA) style follows the Chicago Manual of Style (CMS) Author-Date style. The Chicago Manual of Style is available as part of the Ready Reference Collection at the circulation desk. For further questions or sources not covered in this quick style guide, please reference the Chicago Manual of Style.

Formatting the References List

- Your references list should be titled References Cited
- All sources cited in the text should be included on the References Cited. Do not include any sources that were not cited in the text.
- Arrange your sources alphabetically. When citing multiple sources by the same author, the sources should be in chronological order, from oldest to most recent.

In-Text Citations

The general format for in-text citations is the author's last name and the source's publication date enclosed by parentheses, at the end of the sentence before any punctuation.

Examples:

... (Smith 2010).

... (Wells and Morgan 2007).

When quoting from a source, you must include the page number in the in-text citation. The page number is added after the publication date, separated by a comma. If citing a range of pages, you can use a dash to separate the pages.

Examples:

... (Smith 2010, 3).

... (Wells and Morgan 2007, 15-16).
