AI*IA 2005: Advances in Artificial Intelligence Sara Manzoni,2005-10-06 This volume collects the papers selected for presentation at the IX Congress of the Italian Association for Arti cial Intelligence AI IA held in Milan at the University of Milano Bicocca September 21 23 2005 On the one hand this congress continues the tradition of AI IA in organizing its biannual s enti c meeting from 1989 on the other hand this edition is a landmark in the involvement of the international community of arti cial intelligence AI directly involving a broad number of experts from several countries in the P gramCommittee Moreover the peculiar nature of scientific research in artificial intelligence which is intrinsically international and several consolidated international collaborations in projects and mobility programs allowed the collection and selection of papers from many different countries all around the world enlarging the visibility of the Italian contribution within this research field. Artificial intelligence is today a growing complex set of conceptual, theoretical, methodological and technological frameworks offering innovative computational solutions in the design and development of computer-based systems. Within this perspective, researchers working in this area must tackle a broad range of knowledge about methods, results and solutions coming from different classical areas of this discipline. The congress was designed as a forum allowing researchers to present and discuss specialized results as general contributions to AI growth.
