Integer Programming and Combinatorial Optimization Friedrich Eisenbrand, Bruce Shepherd, 2010-06-09 The idea of a refereed conference for the mathematical programming community was proposed by Ravi Kannan and William Pulleyblank to the Mathematical Programming Society MPS in the late 1980s. Thus IPCO was born and MPS has sponsored the conference as one of its main events since IPCO I at the University of Waterloo in 1990. The conference has become the main forum for recent results in Integer Programming and Combinatorial Optimization in the non-Symposium years. This volume compiles the papers presented at IPCO XIV held June 9-11, 2010 at EPFL in Lausanne. The scope of papers considered for IPCO XIV is likely broader than at IPCO I. This is sometimes due to the wealth of new questions and directions brought from related areas. It can also be due to the successful application of mathematical programming techniques to models not traditionally considered. In any case, the interest in IPCO is greater than ever and this is reflected in both the number (135) and quality of the submissions. The Programme Committee with 13 members was also IPCO's largest. We thank the members of the committee as well as their sub-reviewers for their exceptional and time-consuming work and especially during the online committee meeting held over January. The process resulted in the selection of 34 excellent research papers which were presented in non-parallel sessions over three days in Lausanne. Unavoidably, this has meant that many excellent submissions were not able to be included.

The New Technology Elite Vinnie Mirchandani, 2012-02-28 How to guide incumbent technologies to deliver a better product and gain competitive advantage. Their zip codes are far from Silicon Valley. Their SIC codes show retail, automobile, or banking. But industry after industry is waking up to the opportunity of smart products and services for their increasingly tech-savvy customers. Traditionally, technology buyers; they are learning to embed technology in their products and become technology vendors. In turn, if you analyze Apple, Google, Amazon, Facebook, Twitter, and eBay, you marvel at their data centers, retail stores, application ecosystems, global supply chains, design shops. They are considered consumer tech but have better technology at larger scale than most enterprises. The old delineation of technology buyer and vendor is obsolete. There is a new definition for the technology elite and you find them across industries and geographies. The 17 case studies and 4 guest columns spread through The New Technology Elite bring out the elite attributes in detail. Every organization will increasingly be benchmarked against these elite and soon will be competing against them. Contrasts the productivity that Apple, Google, and others have demonstrated in the last decade to that of the average enterprise technology group. Reveals how to leverage what companies have learned from Google, Apple, Amazon.com, and Facebook to your company's advantage. Designed for business practitioners: CEOs, CFOs, CIOs, technology vendors, venture capitalists, IT consultants, marketing executives, and policy makers. Other titles by Vinnie Mirchandani: The New Polymath Profiles in Compound Technology Innovations. If you're looking to encourage technology innovation look no further The New Technology Elite provides the building blocks your company needs to become innovative through incumbent technologies
