The Andes Mountains

Read the following text and answer the questions below.

The Andes Mountains are a long mountain range in South America, stretching over 9,000 miles (14,484 kilometers) from the north to the south. They are the second highest mountain range in the world, after the Himalayas. The Andes are home to many different types of plants and animals, including some that are found nowhere else in the world.

The Andes Mountains are also home to many different types of people. Some people live in the mountains, while others live in the valleys. The people who live in the mountains are called Andean people. They have a rich culture and history.

The Andes Mountains are also home to many different types of weather. Some parts of the mountains are very hot, while other parts are very cold. The weather can change very quickly, so it is important to be prepared for anything.
