Susan R. Van Dyne

Angry Woman Poems Of Rage English Edition:

Revising Life Susan R. Van Dyne,2000-11-09 Provides a compelling argument for Plath's revision of the painful parts of her life: the failed marriage, her anxiety for success, and her ambivalence towards her mother. The reader will feel the tension in the poetry and the life. CHOICE Examines Plath's twin goals of becoming a famous poet and a perfect mother. This book's main points are clearly and forcefully argued: that both poems and babies require struggle, pain, endless labor, and fears of monstrous offspring; and that in the end, Plath ran out of the resources necessary to produce both. Often maligned as a self-indulgent confessional poet, Plath is here retrieved as a passionate theorist. Library Journal Susan Van Dyne's reading of twenty-five of Sylvia Plath's Ariel poems considers three contexts: Plath's journal entries from 1957 to 1959, especially as they reveal her conflicts over what it meant to be a middle-class wife and mother and an aspiring writer in 1950s America; the interpretive strategies of feminist theory; and Plath's multiple revisions of the poems. The Artistry of Anger Linda M.

Grasso,2003-04-03 In this compelling interdisciplinary study, Linda Grasso demonstrates that using anger as a mode of analysis and the basis of an aesthetic transforms our understanding of American women's literary history. Exploring how black and white nineteenth-century women writers defined, expressed, and dramatized anger, Grasso reconceptualizes antebellum women's writing and illuminates an unrecognized tradition of discontent in American literature. She maintains that two equally powerful forces shaped this tradition: women's anger at their exclusion from the democratic promise of America and the cultural prohibition against its public articulation. Grasso challenges the common notion that nineteenth-century women's writing is confined to domestic themes and shows instead how women channeled their anger into art that addresses complex political issues such as slavery, nation building, gender arrangements, and race relations. Cutting across racial and genre boundaries, she considers works by Lydia Maria Child, Maria W. Stewart, Fanny Fern, and Harriet Wilson as superb examples of the artistry of angry expression. Transforming their anger through literary imagination, these writers bequeathed their vision of an alternative America both to their contemporaries and to subsequent generations. Asian American Literature in Transition, 1965-1996: Volume 3 Asha Nadkarni, Cathy J. Schlund-Vials,2021-06-17 This volume traces the formation of the Asian American literary canon and the field of Asian American Studies from 1965-1996. It is intended for an academic audience ranging from advanced undergraduate students to scholars from a variety of disciplines interested in the formation of Asian American literary studies from 1965-1996. Buddhist Feminism Sokthan

Yeng,2020-08-27 What is Buddhist Feminism? This book examines reasons why Buddhism and feminism may seem to be incompatible and shows that Buddhist and feminist philosophies can work together to challenge patriarchal structures. Current scholarship usually compares Buddhism and feminism to judge their compatibility rather than describing a Buddhist Feminist perspective or method. Sokthan Yeng instead looks for a pattern that connects Buddhist and feminist traditions. In particular, she explores possible exchanges between feminist and Buddhist philosophies which highlight how they each contribute to a more nuanced understanding of anger Yeng explores how a Buddhist feminist approach would allow women's anger to be transformed from that which is outside the bounds of philosophy into that which contributes to philosophical discourse in the East and West and between the two The Oxford History of Poetry in English Catherine Bates, Patrick Cheney, 2022 A history of the birth moment of modern English poetry from Skelton to Spenser that studies a range of poets from Wyatt Surrey and Isabella Whitney to Raleigh Drayton and Mary Herbert Coyote's Song Richard D.

Suzuki, 2011-01-19 During the seventeenth century in response to political and social upheavals such as the English Civil Wars women produced writings in both manuscript and print This volume represents recent scholarship that has uncovered new texts as well as introduced new paradigms to further our understanding of women's literary history during this period Feelin Bettina Judd, 2022-12-15 How creativity makes its way through feeling and what we can know and feel through the artistic work of Black women Feeling is not feelin As the poet artist and scholar Bettina Judd argues feelin in African American Vernacular English is how Black women artists approach and produce knowledge as sensation internal and complex entangled with pleasure pain anger and joy and manifesting artistic production itself as the meaning of the work Through interviews close readings and archival research Judd draws on the fields of affect studies and Black studies to analyze the creative processes and contributions of Black women from poet Lucille Clifton and musician Avery Sunshine to visual artists Betye Saar Joyce J Scott and Deana Lawson Feelin Creative Practice Pleasure and Black Feminist Thought makes a bold and vital intervention in critical theory's trend toward disembodiment feeling as knowledge Instead Judd revitalizes current debates in Black studies about the concept of the human and about Black life by considering how discourses on emotion as they are explored by Black women artists offer alternatives to the concept of the human Judd expands the notions of Black women's pleasure politics in Black feminist studies that include the erotic the sexual the painful the joyful the shameful and the sensations and emotions that yet have no name In its richly multidisciplinary approach Feelin calls for the development of research methods that acknowledge creative and emotionally rigorous work as productive by incorporating visual art narrative and poetry

Changing the Subject Naomi J. Miller, 1996 Naomi Miller offers an illuminating study of this significant early modern woman writer Using multiple critical theoretical perspectives including French feminism new historicism and cultural materialism she examines constructions of gender in Wroth's time Moving beyond the emphasis on victimization that has shaped many previous studies she considers the range of strategies devised by women writers of the period to establish voices for themselves despite daunting cultural constraints Staging Women and the Soul-Body Dynamic in Early Modern England Sarah E. Johnson, 2016-04-01 Though the gender coded soul body dynamic lies at the root of many negative and disempowering depictions of women Sarah Johnson here argues that it also functions as an effective tool for redefining gender expectations Building on past criticism that has concentrated on the debilitating cultural association of women with the body she investigates dramatic uses of the soul body dynamic that challenge the patriarchal subordination of women Focusing on two tragedies two comedies and a small selection of masques from approximately 1592 1614 Johnson develops a case for the importance of drama to scholarly considerations of the soul body dynamic which habitually turn to devotional works sermons and philosophical and religious treatises to elucidate this relationship Johnson structures her discussion around four theatrical relationships each of which is a gendered relationship analogous to the central soul body dynamic puppeteer and puppet tamer and tamed ghost and haunted and observer and spectacle Through its thorough and nuanced readings this study redefines one of the period s most pervasive analogies for conceptualizing women and their relations to men as more complex and shifting than criticism has previously assumed It also opens a new interpretive framework for reading representations of women adding to the ongoing feminist re evaluation of the kinds of power women might actually wield despite the patriarchal strictures of their culture
