Max John Chinyanganya

Air Force Of Zim Intake:

The Development of the Zimbabwe National Defense College, 2004-2012 Max John Chinyanganya, 2024-01-05 This book interrogates the often controversial civil military relations debate in Zimbabwe. The study argues that theoretically Civil Military Relations (CMR) describes the relationship between civil society as a whole and the military organization or organizations established to protect it. More narrowly, it describes the relationship between the civil authority of a given society and its military institutions. Studies of civil military relations often rest on a normative assumption that civilian control of the military is preferable to military control of the state. This text demonstrates the complexity of the relationship between military institutions and civic societies, particularly in developing countries. The methodology employed here is a mixture of internationally recognised scholarly works supplemented by extensive interviews arising from international benchmarking with similar institutions worldwide. This coherent and accessible book brings the history of civil military relations up to date, exploring a variety of perspectives and newly emerging practices in developing countries whose experience in this field is relatively new in both theory and practice.

Zimbabwe Raymond W. Copson, 2006 Zimbabwe is a landlocked, primarily agricultural southern African country of 12.7 million people and has been ruled by its current President Robert Mugabe since a majority rule political system was established following a long civil war in 1980. Since the late 1990s, the Mugabe government has pursued a controversial land expropriation policy that has contributed to a sharp and continuing economic decline. GDP declined by 30 per cent from 1998 through 2003 and fell another 5.2 per cent in 2004. Unemployment is estimated at 70 per cent. The adult HIV infection rate of 25 per cent has contributed to a sharp drop in life expectancy. These subhuman and undemocratic living conditions drove people to the poles in 2005 to finally overthrow Mugabe's reign. The papers presented in this book give insight into the situations and events of the years leading up to the highly anticipated 2005 elections.

Zimbabwe Business Law Handbook Volume 1 Strategic Information and Basic Laws IBP USA,

Fast Track Land Occupations in Zimbabwe Kirk Helliker, Sandra Bhatasara, Manase Kudzai Chiweshe, 2021-01-11 This book offers the first detailed scholarly examination of the nationwide land occupations which spread across the Zimbabwean countryside from the year 2000 and led to the state's fast track land reform programme. In an innovative way, it highlights the decentralized character of the occupations by recognizing significant spatial variation around a number of key themes, including historical memory, modes of mobilization, and gender. A case study of the land occupations in Mashonaland Central Province, based on original research, adds empirical weight to the argument. In further identifying and understanding the specificities and complexities of the land occupations, the book also frames them by way of a nuanced comparative historical analysis of the three chimurenga. It thus examines the land occupations referred to likely controversially as the third chimurenga, with reference to the original anti-colonial revolt from the 1890s, the first chimurenga, and the war of liberation in the 1970s, the second chimurenga. Further, the book engages critically with the ruling party's chimurenga narrative and the hegemonic understanding of the land occupations within Zimbabwean studies This book is a crucial read for all scholars and students of post 2000 land and politics in Zimbabwe but also for those more broadly interested in historical comparative analyses of land struggles in Zimbabwe and beyond AF Press Clips ,1981 Background Notes, Zimbabwe ,1985 The World Factbook ,2008 The Europa World Year: Kazakhstan - Zimbabwe ,2004 First published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company A Handful of Hard Men Hannes Wessels,2020-01-10 A biography of a Special Forces soldier who battled the forces of Mugabe and Nkomo earning a reputation as a military maestro During the West s great transition into the post colonial age the country of Rhodesia refused to succumb quietly and throughout the 1970s fought back almost alone against Communist supported elements that it did not believe would deliver proper governance During this long war many heroes emerged but none more skillful and courageous than Capt Darrell Watt of the Rhodesian SAS who placed himself at the tip of the spear in the deadly battle to resist the forces of Robert Mugabe and Joshua Nkomo It is difficult to find another soldier s story to equal Watt s in terms of time spent on the field of battle and challenges faced Even by the lofty standards of the SAS and Special Forces one has to look far to find anyone who can match his record of resilience and valor in the face of such daunting odds and with resources so paltry A bush lore genius blessed with uncanny instincts and an unbridled determination he had no peers as a combat tracker and there was plenty of competition The Rhodesian theater was a fluid and volatile one in which he performed in almost every imaginable fighting role as an airborne shock trooper leading camp attacks long range reconnaissance operator covert urban operator sniper saboteur seek and strike expert and in the final stages as a key figure in mobilizing an allied army in neighboring Mozambique After twelve years in the cauldron of war his cause slipped from beneath him however and Rhodesia gave way to Zimbabwe When the guns went quiet Watt had won all his battles but lost the war In this fascinating biography we learn that in his later years he turned to saving wildlife on a continent where animals are in continued danger devoting himself to both the fauna and African people he has cared so deeply about Jane's All the World's Aircraft ,2006 Whiteness in Zimbabwe D.
